No SC yardstick for SC/ST promotions

KANU SARDA @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday refused to lay down the yardstick for determining the inadequacy of representation for granting reservation in promotions for Scheduled Caste/Scheduled Tribe candidates in government jobs while reiterating the need for empirical data to arrive at the decision.

However, the data so collected must not be for a group in a service but for a cadre in which promotions have to be made, a three-judge bench comprising justices L Nageswara Rao, Sanjiv Khanna and B R Gavai said. A cadre is part of a group.

"State is obligated to collect quantifiable data as per the court's judgment in M Nagaraj (2006) and Jarnail Singh (2018). Collection of data has to be for each category of posts for the entire service," the court ruled. The verdict came on a batch of petitions that urged the court to clarify norms for reservation in promotions.

The judgment primarily laid down the principle for providing quota in promotion.

However, the order left it to the states to assess the inadequacy of representation of SC/ST to promotional posts taking into account relevant factors.

The bench also said that a review should be conducted regarding the data for the purpose of determining inadequacy of representation and providing reservation in promotion, but left it to the government to decide the time period for such a review.

The petitioners had sought clarity on several issues, mainly

Cadre data gathering

"Cadre, which should be the unit for collection of quantifiable data, would be meaningless if data pertaining to the representation of SC/STs is with reference to the entire service," the bench said on how the adequacy of representation is to be determined. During the hearing, the Centre had suggested diluting the criteria for quota in promotion by doing away with the requirement of quantifiable data to establish inadequacy of representation of SCs/STs.

It had told the bench that even after 75 years of Independence, SCs/STs have not been brought to the same level of merit as the forward classes. "If you don't lay down a definite decisive ground that the states and union will follow, there will be a multitude of litigations," Attorney General K K Venugopal had said.

Bad bank to buy ₹50K cr NPAs in first phase

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

NEARLY a year after Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman announced it in 2021 Budget, India's first bad bank is set to go live. All regulatory approvals have been secured to set up the National Asset Reconstruction Company (NARCL) and India Debt Resolution Company (IDRCL), State Bank of India (SBI) chairman Dinesh Kumar Khara said on Friday.

SBI is one of the stakeholders in the bad bank. The announcement comes days before the 2022 Budget. The bad bank has two legs — NARCL to identify, aggregate and acquire stressed assets from lenders, and IDRCL to handle the debt-resolution. A total of 38 accounts worth ₹82,845 crore have so far been identified for transfer to NARCL in a phased manner, said Khara. In the first phase, banks will transfer 15 non-performing accounts aggregating ₹50,000 crore to NARCL. This will be done within the current financial year, said Khara.

NARCL will transfer these bad loans to IDRCL, which will then scout for domestic or international buyers in an attempt to resolve them.

NARCL will try to acquire assets on a 15:85 cash and security receipts (SRs) ratio. It means the lenders will receive 15% upfront cash payment and the remaining in the form of SRs guaranteed by the Government of India for their face value.

The guarantee is for ₹30,600 crore. If the bad bank can't sell the loan or sells them for a loss, the SRs guaranteed by the government will be used to make good the difference between what the lender was supposed to receive and what NARCL was able to raise.

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

FORMER chief minister and BJP senior leader BS Yediyurappa's granddaughter — Dr Soundarya — allegedly died by suicide on Friday. Her body was found hanging at her upscale apartment in Vasanth Nagar in the city.

Daughter of Yediyurappa's eldest daughter Padmavathi and Virupakshappa Yamakanamardi, Soundarya was working as Assistant Professor, Surgery at the Bowring Hospital. She married Dr Neeraj S, a radiologist at MS Ramaiah Memorial Hospital, in 2018. The couple has an eight-month-old son.

According to sources, Soundarya was reportedly suffering from postpartum depression and that could be the reason behind her suicide.

Soundarya's last rites were performed at Neeraj's Abbigere farmhouse in Soladevanahalli. Dr KV Sathish, one of the forensic doctors who conducted the autopsy on Soundarya at the Bowring Hospital, told the media there was a mark on Soundarya's neck. A stretch of Avenue Road dug up by civic agencies for Smart City works

BBMP DRAWS UP LIST OF ROADS FOR ASPHALTING

Palike blames other agences for digging roads; netizens take swipe at it for mess in the city

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AFTER being pulled up by the Karnataka High Court for potholes on Bengaluru's roads, the engineering wing of the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) is preparing a list of all the roads which have been cut by civic agencies.

Citizens have appreciated the high court's directions and mocked the BBMP on social media for stating that contractors associated with civic agencies like Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB), Bangalore Electricity Supply Company Limited (Bescom) and others have violated the contract.

"The agencies, mostly BWSSB, dig roads after they are tarred, usually for water pipeline repairs. Since it's an essential service, permission is given. But the roads are not tarred again, as per contract agreement. They also do not pay damages or contract violation compensation. So now we are asking agencies to tar roads before the next court hearing date," said a BBMP engineering team official, requesting anonymity.

> The agencies, mostly BWSSB, dig roads after they are tarred, usually for water pipeline repairs. Since it's an essential service, permission is given. But the roads are not tarred again, as per contract agreement
> BBMP official

Citizens and activists point out that this is just one aspect. Although Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai has directed BBMP to ensure that all arterial and sub-arterial roads are free of potholes, the issue persists. They also pointed out that despite lack of rain, the condition of tarred roads is deplorable because of poor quality work and heavy traffic.

A former corporator said: "Earlier, officials used to blame political parties for the road contract lobby. Now, in spite of the absence of the council, roads have not improved. All roads need not be taken up under Smart City work, and court directions are not needed for improving roads. All one needs is will. Multiple deadlines were set and forgotten, and the condition of roads continues to be bad."

Netizens took to social media, taking a swipe at BBMP on the poor condition of roads, which are worse on the city outskirts. They said that lack of coordination cannot be used as an excuse.

SC ruling on land acquisition saves BDA ₹3K cr

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE recent Supreme Court ruling that exempted land acquired for the Peripheral Ring Road (PRR) project of Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) from being compensated under the Land Acquisition Act, 2013, has come as a shot in the arm for the cash-strapped organisation. It is likely to save around Rs 3,000 crore to be paid for acquiring land, thereby slashing the overall project cost too.

The Rs 21,091-crore project, proposed 17 years ago to decongest the city, required a whopping Rs 15,475 crore only for land acquisition under the 2013 Act. The 73-km project, with eight lanes and four service lanes, will come up on 1,810 acres of land in the taluks of Bengaluru North, Bengaluru East and Anekal. It will encircle the city, commencing from Tumakuru Road at NICE Road junction on NH-48, and end on Hosur Road, at NICE Road starting point on NH-44.

A bench of Justices S Abdul Nazeer and Sanjiv Khanna on January 20 overruled a HC judgment in this connection, while hearing the case, Bangalore Development Authority vs The State of Karnataka & Others. BDA had in its application said the HC direction had upset the budget calculation of the project.

The court said, "The HC had erred in holding that in view of the repeal of the Land Acquisition Act by coming into force of the 2013 Act, the corresponding provisions of 2013 Act would regulate acquisition proceedings under the BDA Act, and this would include determination of compensation in accordance with the 2013 Act."

A top BDA official told TNIE that notification for the lands to be acquired for the project were done by 2007 itself. "The Act came into existence only in 2013. The SC verdict is a big relief for us as it will bring down the project cost, and the Authority will save nearly Rs 3,000 crore. If compensation is paid under this, as demanded by those whose lands were acquired, we would have to pay over Rs 15,000 crore just for land acquisition," he said.

The BDA plans to implement the project on private-public partnership basis. "This proposal needs to be approved by the cabinet before we can go ahead with implementation of the project," he said.

New multi-organ transplant centre to provide integrated patient care

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

SPARSH Group of Hospitals has launched a new multi-organ transplant centre at its RR Nagar unit on Mysuru Road, to offer comprehensive and multidisciplinary care to patients.

The centre will be led by heart and lung transplant surgeon Dr Kumud Dhital and will comprise a team of 50 transplant specialists who will provide integrated care during every step of the transplant process. Dr Dhital is known for being the surgical pioneer of DCD (donation after circulatory death) heart transplantation, the first series of which he performed in 2014 at St Vincent's Hospital in Sydney, Australia.

"There is an urgent need to encourage more people to come forward for organ donation and emphasise the positive impact that organ transplant can have on the lives of patients and their families," said Minister of Medical Education and Health, Dr K Sudhakar, while inaugurating the centre.

"Building awareness about organ donation and transplant in India requires a grassroots approach. From addressing the stigma around it to sensitising the medical fraternity about the benefits of transplant, we have to first address the information gap. Furthermore, there is a need to create the right infrastructure in hospitals and build experienced multidisciplinary teams that can help improve the status quo. At Sparsh, we aim to be a leader in multi-organ transplantation where we not only offer transplants but also provide the required training and share our best practices with other institutions," said Sparsh Hospital chairman Dr Sharan Shivaraj Patil.

Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar launches Sparsh Group of Hospitals' multi-organ transplant centre at its RR Nagar unit on Friday | VINOD KUMAR T

An estimated 5,00,00 lakh Indians die each year waiting for organ transplants. According to the National Organ and Tissue Transplant Organisation, only 1,500 of the 30,000 patients requiring liver transplants annually benefit from this life saving procedure.

The deceased organ donation rate in India at less than 1% per million population, is a major handicap, and translates to less than 1 person per million opting to donate their organs. Superstitions and stigma, lack of transplant coordinators, and lack of required infrastructure for certifying and maintaining brain-dead patients are the reasons behind the low donation numbers in India.

Organ retrieval centres to come up across state

Bengaluru: Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar on Friday announced that an organ retrieval centre will be opened at the Bangalore Medical College soon and more such centres will come up in medical colleges across the state, starting with four medical colleges initially. The government will tie-up with NIMHANS to enable organ transplantation, as the mental health institute sees a lot of brain deaths, he said at the inaugural of Sparsh Hospital's multi-organ transplant centre on Friday.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

29th January : An energetic Moon is an excellent indication of positive action - hopefully. It's when we look at the other planets that we get a different impression. In my opinion it's the early morning which brings the greatest chance of an argument. If you're still asleep, you'll avoid this planetary glitch altogether.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Dreams, imagination and intuition are important at the moment and are vital to any solution to practical problems, but you can't get away without hard, practical work. You may also look closely at domestic questions to see if they can be solved by an unusual approach.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
It's a serious moment, yet one when you can consider strange new options. You may be taking responsibility for group affairs, yet be careful not to over-commit yourself. Recent delays in communication should be lifted and long-awaited news could arrive soon.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
If you're following up career proposals, then you might usefully spend the next few days planning interviews, making applications and plotting your next great move. Directness and honesty about your thoughts and feelings will be appreciated by those closest to you.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Venus, ruler of love and affection, makes a temporary withdrawal from stressful relationships, hopefully easing some of the tensions which are bedevilling personal and professional relationships. If you have offended anyone, then you might be wise to apologise now - not next week!

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
One reason for hold-ups has been your doubt about a particular course of action. However, over the coming days the sheer speed of developments may take you by surprise. Secret information may cause a change of plan, but if you do change your mind, you'd better let other people know about it.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You may have been shouldering more than your fair share of responsibility for acquaintances or colleagues. The current period presents you with a chance to redress the balance and set the record straight. If you do this now, you'll no doubt avoid unnecessary hassles some way down the line.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Your lunar alignments encourage an unusual and independent point of view. You may also, as it happens, devote as much time as is necessary to sorting out domestic problems. A few days engaged in consulting family and friends and implementing overdue improvements will save trouble later.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Powerful planetary patterns continue, as does the uncertainty about where current developments are leading. Changes over the coming few days may at first be so subtle that their meaning will not be clear until next week. Mind you, that's not too long to wait.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
The financial situation remains critical, and you may be tempted to sit on the fence, waiting for a resolution. However, if you are too passive, you must expect to risk making a loss. Perhaps the central issue is your willingness to spend money on relationships or subsidise a loved one.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
The simultaneous movements of the Sun and Uranus are about to have an effect on your emotional life that will be as dramatic as it is difficult to control. A breath of fresh air could revitalise an old partnership - and can only add to your quality of life.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
The Moon is on your side, so it's only to be expected that family members and people you live with should be backing you to the hilt. Not for the first time your planets show the possibility of dramatic financial dealings and important agreements. Yet illusions you hold so fondly now, may be rudely shattered before long.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Plans for domestic change which were initiated earlier in the year but were never completed should be brought to a successful conclusion soon. The only things required are a little determination and a large dose of confidence. Above all, you should believe in yourself!

K'taka among 4 South states with high cases

Mandaviya asks states to focus on home isolation, watch emerging Covid-19 clusters

WITH the Union Health Ministry noting that Karnataka and three other southern states — Kerala, Tamil Nadu and Andhra Pradesh — are among the top 10 states in the country contributing a high number of Covid cases, Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya on Friday asked the states to focus on home isolation cases, watch emerging Covid clusters and hotspots, and monitor the trends in hospitalisation, drug availability and virus-related deaths.

He advised the states to focus on opening more tele-consultation centres as part of a Hub and Spoke Model -- a distribution method in which a centralised hub exists for better delivery of services. He reiterated the states to adopt the five-fold strategy of test, track, treat, vaccinate and Covid-appropriate behaviour against the highly contagious virus.

"India's Covid vaccination drive is a global success story, especially for a populous country like ours," he added.

He was speaking at a virtual review meeting with the health ministers and officials of Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh, Kerala, Telangana, Tamil Nadu, Lakshadweep, Puducherry and Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

After the meeting, Karnataka Health Minister Dr K Sudhkar said, "We told the Union minister about the successful tele-triaging methods being used and how well the state is managing the situation despite over 95 per cent of the infected population being under home isolation."

Karnataka and Andhra Pradesh were appreciated for good progress in eSanjeevani, where a large number of people were helped with tele-consultation.

Mandaviya is said to have asked Karnataka to keep a watch on the bed occupancy rate, oxygen requirements, drug availability and death rates.

Sudhakar said, "There has been no increase in the death rate in the state. But around 25 people are dying every day. Majority of these deaths are due to comorbidities. However, a death audit report is being submitted to understand better."

Record 71K recoveries

THERE were 50 deaths, which took the death toll to 38,804 in the state, but the mortality rate remained at 1.04 per cent.

"Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya said we must observe Covid-19 patients in home isolation. So far, 95 per cent of patients are at home. Deaths are occurring among those who are older and have comorbidities. We do a death audit regularly," he said.

On the second consecutive day, the state breached the discharge record with 71,092 discharges, beating Thursday's high of 67,236, which pushed active cases below the 3-lakh mark, to 2,88,767. The recovery rate improved to 91.20 per cent.

Bengaluru contributed 15,199 cases on January 28. Here too, active cases reduced from over 1.8 lakh to 1,60,178.

Sudhakar said that as per new guidelines for home testing of Covid-19, if the test is positive, one must update status on https://cvstatus.icmr.gov.in. If the test is negative, but the person has Covid-19 symptoms, they must go in for an RT-PCR test. If the repeat test is negative and there are no symptoms, no further action is required.

"New guidelines have been issued for disposal of Rapid Antigen and other home test kits. Do not dispose of used kits with domestic wet/dry waste as it is contagious, put it in a bio hazard bag and hand it over separately," Sudhakar added

47 PATIENTS IN 5 CCCs, BBMP LOOKS TO MOVE ALL TO ONE CENTRE

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

AS Covid-19 cases began to rise, the BBMP opened up Covid Care Centres (CCCs). But as on January 28, five are operational and house 47 patients.

In a bid to optimise medical resources, the BBMP medical staff has decided to shift all the patients to one CCC, but many are not keen to move, reasoning that they prefer to stay close to their homes. BBMP teams are trying to convince the patients that they will be dropped home in government vehicles or ambulances after treatment, but are finding the task difficult.

"We are reviewing the situation in all CCCs, and a final decision of which ones to keep open and where to shift the patients, will be taken by Monday. To ensure that medical staff is well-utilised, they have been attached to primary health centres and put on vaccination duty," said BBMP Chief Health officer Dr Balasundar.

BBMP had announced it would set up one CCC in each assembly constituency, but instead of 28, 19 were opened, based on requirement.

BBMP had planned to create a 2,760-bed capacity, but as on January 28, 998 beds were set up.

Ballari reports five deaths in a day, highest in 3rd wave

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR @Ballari

BALLARI and Vijayanagara districts reported five Covid-19 deaths in a single day -- the highest number of daily deaths in the third wave. The deaths sparked tension among relatives and patients, as the numbers increased, but officials claimed that pending death reports were uploaded, inflating the daily figures.

Ballari and Vijayanagara districts have so far reported 1,620 Covid-19 deaths. In Kalyana Karnataka region, undivided Ballari district has high Covid mortality rate.

Dr Janardhana H L, District Health Officer, Ballari, said there is no panic over the number of deaths.

"Some deaths are not cleared, so collection of data gets delayed. In the past ten days, only one Covid-19 death was reported, and some pending deaths were uploaded by the data team. People need not panic as the mortality rate in the third wave is low," he said.

Undivided Ballari district reported more than 30 deaths in the third wave. Vijayanagara has 2,100 active cases, and a majority of them are in home isolation. Some critical patients are under treatment in Ballari district hospital, VIMS, and in private hospitals. Hospitals have been instructed not to hide any Covid-19 deaths," he added.

Govt open to review of schemes, says CM

Says ready to make rectifications if there are short-comings, asks ISEC for regular feedback

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Friday said his government is open to suggestions on implementation of various programmes and projects and is even willing to make course correction, if necessary.

Speaking after releasing a study by the Institute of Social and Economic Change (ISEC) on the impact of various programmes and projects of his government, implemented over the last six months, the CM suggested that the institute continue such work and provide him feedback on the impact.

"Our government is open to such studies. Give us timely reports to rectify our programmes, if there is any lacunae," he told ISEC director Dr Rajashekar at an event to mark the completion of of six months of the Basavaraj Bommai-led BJP government at the Banquet Hall in Vidhana Soudha here on Friday. In his opening remarks, Dr Rajashekar pointed out that scholarship schemes, especially the 'Raitha Vidya Nidhi' for children of farmers, are help girl children by checking the school dropout rate.

"We have aimed big. There are challenges as well, but we have the confidence to face them. A strong foundation has been laid for a bright future. We will work with utmost care for the welfare of the people," Bommai said. The CM also hinted at more sops in his maiden budget for the welfare of the SCs, STs, and OBCs and expanding the Amrith Yojna to cover more gram panchayats, from the existing 750.

Confident of winning BBMP polls

The CM also exuded confidence that the BJP will win the forthcoming BBMP polls while highlighting that his government is committed to making the city as an international destination by providing world-class facilities.

Addressing a gathering at the BJP's office after receiving a felicitation, he suggested that party workers take up an aggressive campaign by creating awareness about the projects the government has announced for the city's development.

Apart from Rs 6,000 Crore over a period of three years, Rs 1,500 crore has been granted to reconstruct the 'rajakaluves'(storm water drains), Rs 2,300 crore for the development of 12 major corridor, he noted. Work on developing as many as 75 slums and as many parks has been taken up under the Amrit Yojna. Funds have also been allocated to develop stormwater drains. "The BJP's flag flying high after the BBMP polls is as certain as the Sun rising in the East," he asserted.

While almost all cabinet ministers took part in the event organised to mark the completion of six months of the Bommai-led government, Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister J C Madhuswamy was conspicuous by his absence. He was at his Bengaluru residence, reportedly busy attending to files, sources said.

Though he wished Bommai on social media, the senior minister gave the event a miss leading to speculation that he was upset over not being given charge of Tumakuru district. Madhuswamy also skipped the felicitation function organised by the BJP at the party's office later in the evening.

B'day wishes pour in for Bommai

BENGALURU : President Ram Nath Kovind, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Union Home Minister Amit Shah and a host of dignitaries extended wishes to Karnataka Chief Minister Basavaraja Bommai on his 62nd birthday on Friday. Taking to Twitter, Modi stated that Bommai has been making outstanding efforts to boost Karnataka's growth trajectory and ensuring a life of dignity as well as prosperity for the poor. While Shah called Bommai over phone and wished him, many others including Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla, Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot, BJP national president J P Nadda, former chief minister B S Yediyurappa and Cabinet ministers, Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, Uttar Pradesh CM Yogi Adityanath, along with former CMs Siddaramaiah, H D Kumaraswamy and several other leaders from other parties, greeted him. Meanwhile, to mark the occasion, Bommai adopted 11 cows from the Rashtrothana Gau Shala (cow shelter).

DKS: Cong rejig by March, polls soon

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

THE Congress' much-awaited party restructuring, which KPCC president D K Shivakumar had announced would take place around Ayudha Pooja last year, has not happened till now. Overdue for about a decade now, many posts are lying vacant in the party organisation.

While Ayudha Pooja has long gone, and even Sankranti is over, there is little change in the Congress. When asked, Shivakumar said the party has started a membership drive, and those who do well and recruit more members, will be rewarded with positions. The membership drive will go on till the end of March, by which time they hope to fill up all the vacancies.

"I have told sitting legislators who are interested in party positions to go and work and look after their constituencies, because elections are just about 14 months away," Shivakumar said.

PCC Working President MLC Saleem Ahmed said, "Elections to the Youth Congress and NSUI are over, and now we will take up elections to the main Congress party. We will fill up vacancies at the block, DCC and KPCC level."

The delay in appointments has taken a toll of the party organisation -- many of the office-bearers were appointed nearly a decade ago, when Dr G Parameshwara was KPCC chairman. While a few have passed away, some have developed age-related issues, having crossed the 60-year mark. Functioning has been affected because of the vacancies, leading to a drift.

Simha-Ramadass tussle out in the open again

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

THE tug-of-war between Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha and Krishnaraja MLA S A Ramadass came to the fore once again with the former accusing the latter of influencing BJP corporators to stay away from the MCC council meeting to delay the piped gas connection project.

On Friday, the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) council meeting was postponed due to lack of quorum. Most of the BJP corporators stayed away even as the Mayor and senior BJP corporator Sunanda Palanetra waited for them to attend.

Angered at his own party members staying absent, Simha went to the Mayor's chamber and expressed his displeasure and accused Ramadass of influencing the corporators not to attend the meeting to delay the project.

Simha later told reporters that the piped gas project, which is being implemented in other Tier-2 and 3 cities without any hurdles, is facing problems here.

"The implementing agency has assured to repair the roads after installing the pipelines and even agreed to provide funds for development of those constituencies. The project is in the interest of people, but due to a few people, ambitious projects like these are getting delayed," he said, pointing fingers at Ramadass.

He even took a jibe at the MLA, calling him a more 'senior' leader than Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

'6.5L MORE HOMES WILL BE BUILT FOR POOR'

TO develop backward Kalyana Karnataka region, Rs 1,500 crore was granted and if the entire amount is utilised, another Rs 3,000 crore will be allocated next year. Financial approvals have been given to fill 14,000 vacant posts in the region, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai added.

"Apart from five lakh houses to be constructed for the poor under the state scheme, another 6.5 lakh residences will be built under the Central programme, as Prime Minister Narendra Modi cleared pending grants at one go," the Chief Minister added.

He said that ministers in his cabinet delivered goods for the welfare of people keeping aside their personal interests. Presenting a report card on his government's performance was necessary as he wanted to place facts before the people, he said.

"I aimed to do more for the farmers and downtrodden among other weaker sections, but finances were a constraint," he said.

Kalaburagi mayoral election on Feb 5; BJP shores up numbers

RAMKRISHNA BADSESHI
@ Kalaburagi

THE mayoral election of the Kalaburagi Mahanagara Palike (KMP), which had generated much heat, is now scheduled to be held on February 5 after much delay.

According to a notification issued by Kalaburagi Regional Commissioner N V Prasad, who is also the election officer, nominations for election to the posts of Mayor, Deputy Mayor and chairpersons of four standing committees can be submitted up to 10.30 am on February 5. After the attendance of members is verified, the election process will commence at 12.30 pm.

While the stage is set for the conduct of the election, the Congress is planning to approach the high court over inclusion of five BJP MLCs in the list of eligible voters. The election to the KMP Council was held on September 3 last year and the results were announced on September 6. It was earlier decided to hold elections to the mayoral posts on November 20, but it was postponed in view of the biennial Legislative Council polls.

In the September election, the Congress won 27 seats in the Council of 55 members, the BJP won 23 seats and later another independent joined the BJP, taking its strength to 24. The JDS had won four seats. In October, the KMP announced the list of eligible voters for the mayoral poll which included six BJP MLAs, MLCs, and MP, two Congress leaders including Rajya Sabha member Mallikarjun Kharge and Kalaburagi-North MLA Kaneez Fatima, along with the 55 elected corporators.

A party needs to secure 32 votes to secure the mayor's post. While the BJP was short of four votes, the Congress was short of three votes. The JDS wanted to play kingmaker and announced that it will support the party which will give it the mayor's post. But neither the Congress nor the BJP were ready. While the Congress kept insisting that the JDS will support it, the BJP had maintained that the mayor will be its side, but did not spell out its strategy.

In the first week of November, seven MLCs including Laxman Savadi, Sayabanna Talawar, Bharati Shetty, Lehar Singh, Pratap Singh, Raghunath Malkapure and Muniraju of the BJP applied for inclusion of their names in the voters' list in Kalaburagi City to be eligible to vote in the mayoral election. The Congress approached the Kalaburagi Bench of the Karnataka High Court challenging their application, following which the court issued notice to them.

But, a few weeks ago, the Kalaburagi Assistant Commissioner, who is the competent authority, included the names of five BJP MLCs — Muniraju, Laxman Savadi, Bharati Shetty, Raghunath Rao Malkapure and Lehar Singh in the voters' list while rejecting the applications of Pratap Singh and Sayabanna Talwar. With this, the BJP now has five more votes which can see it through in the mayoral poll.

Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee spokesperson Dr Sharanprakash Patil said the party will approach the High Court on Monday seeking a stay on the mayoral election.

Belagavi leaders against Gokak brothers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

BJP legislators and leaders from Belagavi met Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai in Bengaluru on Friday and demanded stringent action against Gokak MLA Ramesh Jarkiholi and Arabhavi MLA Balachandra Jarkiholi for going against the party's interests.

The legislators including MLAs Abhay Patil, Duryodhan Aihole, P Rajeev and Mahadevappa Yadwad, Parliament members Eeranna Kadadi, Annasaheb Jolle and former MLC Mahantesh Kavatagimath blamed the two Jarkiholi brothers for the defeat of BJP candidate (Kavatagimath) in the recent MLC election from Belagavi local bodies constituency.

Complaining against the duo, the leaders said the Kavatagimath lost only because their brother Lakhan Jarkiholi jumped into the fray, and he was supported by both Ramesh and Balachandra.

According to sources, the legislators are making all-out efforts to prevent the party from allotting a cabinet berth to Ramesh or Balachandra, as the BJP central leadership is said to be keen on inducting either one of them this time.

With the BJP one short of majority in the Legislative Council, the Jarkiholi brothers have assured the party of getting the support of Lakhan to achieve the target, sources said. "The legislators from Belagavi are exerting pressure on party leaders, especially Bommai, to find other alternatives to achieve a majority in the council rather than getting the Jarkiholis' support," a source said.

Forum seeks action on mob violence

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A fact-finding team of Bahutva Karnataka, a citizens' group, has appealed to the Naragund Police in Gadag district to take up cases of those victimised by mob violence in the taluk and has demanded an end to political patronage of groups taking part in hate speeches.The initiative was undertaken by a group of activists, academics, researchers and journalists.

The fact-finding team was formed following the lynching of 19-year-old Sameer Shahpur and the attempted lynching of his friend Shamseer Khan (20) on January 17 in Naragund, Gadag. The two were returning home when they were attacked by a mob, allegedly with links to the RSS and Bajrang Dal. Police had arrested four people in connection with the murder and assault.

According to a report, the taluk has seen a steady rise in Hindu-Muslim violence over the last two years, especially intensifying in November.

The report stated that action taken by the police was minimal in the previous cases. Those involved in the previous cases were also part of the lynching of Sameer Shahpur.

The report said this violence was a consequence of systematic form of atomised and targeted violence against a particular community fuelled by hate speeches "The silence of the governing dispensation in the state gives tacit sanction and emboldens the rowdy members of the Sangh Parivar," the report concluded.

'SOUNDARYA WAS POLITE'

ACCORDING to sources, Neeraj had left for duty in the morning on Friday. He was alerted by the house help, who called him after Soundarya didn't open her bedroom door. Neeraj called his wife on her phone but there was no response. He rushed home and found Soundarya hanging from the ceiling fan. He took her to a private hospital where the doctors declared her to have been brought dead. The body was then taken to Bowring Hospital for postmortem. The reason behind her alleged suicide is yet to be ascertained.

"Soundarya was polite and unassuming with her colleagues, though she used to get a lot of attention because of her grandfather. Dr Neeraj is also known to be humble," said sources on condition of anonymity. The jurisdictional High Grounds police, meanwhile, registered a case of unnatural death in the absence of any complaint or a suicide note.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi, former Prime Minister HD Deve Gowda, former chief minister HD Kumaraswamy and Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman spoke to Yediyurappa over the phone and conveyed their condolences.

Supermarkets may soon have wine on shelves

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

TAKING a cue from neighbouring Maharashtra, the Karnataka government is thinking of allowing sale of wine in big stores and supermarkets, and in the process, give grape producers a leg-up. At present, only registered wine stores are allowed to sell wine in the state.

Karnataka is the second largest grape grower in India, behind Maharashtra, producing around three lakh metric tonnes of grapes in over 16,000 hectares of land.

On Thursday, the Maharashtra cabinet approved sale of wine in stores and supermarkets which are spread across 100 sqmt area. The Maharashtra government believes that this new move will help grape farmers as well as industries.

Speaking to The New Indian Express, Karnataka Excise Minister K Gopalaiah said a team of officials from his department will visit Maharashtra soon to study the pros and cons of such a move. "We need to get a ground report. If this initiative helps people as well as the government, we can consider implementing it in Karnataka," he said. Sources in the Excise Department said Karnataka is likely to adopt this method. "We are not allowing consumption of wine in stores, but only sale. We can expect good revenue. Once we get a report on the Maharashtra model, and if it is feasible, it will be placed before the cabinet," an official said.

Sometime back, the Karnataka government had proposed to start online sale and home delivery of liquor. However, the minister ruled out any such proposal for now.

T'gana told to file affidavit on Covid initiatives

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Hyderabad

THE High Court of Telangana on Friday questioned the rationale behind State government's decision to reopen schools from February 1 even while declaring holidays for universities and colleges as part of its measures to curb the rampant spread of Omicron variant.

A bench, comprising Chief Justice Satish Chandra Sharma and Justice Abhinand Kumar Shavili, heard a batch of Covid-19 PILs and writ petitions and directed the government to furnish details on the steps it has taken by to minimise congregation of people at weekly bazars and implementation of Covid protocols, including use of face masks and social distancing.

The bench further also directed the government to inform the court as to what steps it has taken to provide separate medical kits to the Covid-affected children as supplying common medical kits, which are now being given adults, is not advisable according to the medical experts.

Appearing for one of the petitioners, senior counsel L Ravichander informed the court that there were media reports which say that the schools will be reopened form February 1 and expressed apprehensions that the move may lead to serious health issues among the children, especially when the State has only one designated facility — Niloufer Hospital to treat children.

The court also directed the government to inform it about the steps taken to curtail the rampant spread of Omicron during in the Samakka Saralamma Jatara to be organised in February.

Parking fees at malls illegal: Court

ENS @ Kochi

THE Kerala High Court on Friday observed that the collection of parking fees from customers by shopping malls is prima facie illegal. And if that is permitted, the malls will also collect fees to provide lift services to customers, the court said.

Justice P V Kunhikrishnan made the oral observation while considering the petitions filed by Bosco Louis and Pauly Vadakkan against the parking fee charged by the Lulu International Shopping Mall Pvt Ltd, Kochi. The Shopping Centres Association of India (SCAI), Mumbai, also filed a petition seeking to implead in the case, which the court allowed. Citing the Building Rules, the High Court had earlier said that sufficient parking space is necessary to construct a building. "Parking space is part of the building. Prima facie, the owner cannot collect parking fees," the court had said. Reiterating the point, the court said the collection of parking fees by malls is illegal.

K'taka releases Rs 13 crore to pay victims of sexual assault

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE State Government has informed the Karnataka High Court that it has released Rs 13 crore to the Karnataka State Legal Services Authority (KSLSA) to pay victims of sexual assault under the Victim Compensation Scheme out of the Rs 20 crore required to be paid for 2020-21. A division bench of Chief Justice Ritu Raj Awasthi and Justice Suraj Govindaraj directed the state to release the remaining Rs 7 crore at the earliest.

The court was hearing a petition filed by Peoples Movement Against Sexual Assault (PMASA). Additional Government Advocate S Rajashekar told the court that Rs 13 crore has been released to KSLSA and the requisition for remaining Rs 7 crore has not been received. As soon as the requisition is received, it will also be released as arrangements have been made and an order passed, he said.

Then the counsel for KSLSA submitted that the requisition has already been sent and in case it is required, it will be sent again. In view of this, the court directed the State Government to ensure the release of the remaining amount through the Principal Secretary, Department of Women and Child Development at the earliest. Also taking note of the presence of Dr Manjula, Principal Secretary, Department of Women and Child Development, before the court through video conference, the court said that she need not be present on February 9, 2022, the next date of hearing.

During the last hearing, KSLSA had submitted that 188 applications received under the Victim Compensation Scheme have been kept pending on account of paucity of funds. The amount required from the State Government for disbursal under the scheme was Rs 20 crore for the period 2020-21. Taking note of it, the court had observed that unless the said amount is released, the scheme cannot be implemented by KSLSA and hence the State Government has to release the funds. In compliance with this order, the State Government released Rs 13 crore.

JOB SCHEMES NEEDED TO ADDRESS DISTRESS IN INFORMAL SECTOR

All Union budgets have two common objectives—job creation and sustaining economic growth. But the need is more pronounced now and Budget 2023—also India's second pandemic budget—warrants the government to take over the baton from the RBI's monetary policy and restore fiscal dominance. Globally too, central banks, which rushed to the frontlines when the pandemic first hit us in 2020, are rolling back unconventional measures hoping that fiscal policy will evolve from being complementary to being substitutive. Given the need for higher public expenditure, particularly in infrastructure, health and education, without elevating national debt to unacceptable levels, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman has a complex task of balancing growth and fiscal consolidation.

As economic recovery gains pace, it's essential to ensure that a rising tide must lift all boats. Specifically, the distress in the informal sector and the lower end of the income cycle is starting to compound. Signs of weakness were visible even during the 2018-19 economic slowdown, and the pandemic dealt a disastrous blow. Now, the government cannot afford to leave out sectors or sections of society behind, which means job creation, including for the low and semi-skilled, is an absolute necessity. Private consumption and investments are still a work in progress, and hence government expenditure must continue to drive near-term recovery.

Though the government began the current fiscal with an aggressive focus on capital expenditure, the momentum slowed down with only half the budgeted amount being spent as on November 2021. If the recent blanket curbs on departments to rationalise expenditure halted the Centre's spending binge, even those with approved mandates like the National Infrastructure Pipeline and drinking water programmes have needlessly slowed down. Helpfully, some of the pandemic-related expenses including subsidies are unlikely to be rolled over next fiscal, taking the pressure off the expenditure budget and freeing up fiscal space. Disinvestment proceeds too will likely chip in FY23, if not in FY22, so Sitharaman shouldn't excessively worry about debt and deficits and instead focus on kick-starting the economic engine.

PROTECTION AGAINST SPOUSAL VIOLENCE

The Delhi High Court is currently hearing a plea effectively seeking to criminalise marital rape. At present, under an exception in Section 375 of the IPC, which deals with rape, "sexual intercourse by a man with his own wife, the wife not being under 15 years of age, is not rape". The arguments in favour of criminalising marital rape include that treating rape as different based on who commits the act is an affront to Article 14 and that removing the exception will provide dignity and recourse to the survivor of marital rape by acknowledging the act as rape. The arguments against the move are that criminalising marital rape will adversely affect the institution of marriage, women facing violence in marriages have other laws that may cover sexual violence, and that the move will lead to a rise in false cases.

Around 150 nations have criminalised marital rape. The arguments against doing so appear to be based on bogies rather than engaging directly with the issue at hand, which is of consent. Does marriage strip a woman of the right to consent to sexual intercourse? Does it strip her of bodily autonomy in the eyes of the law? If so, can that be constitutional? Does the edifice of marriage, as an institution, rest on a woman's consent being immaterial? How does one view these questions rationally, with the understanding and awareness of women as equal citizens before the law, and respond in favour of the exception protecting husbands from sexually assaulting their wives?

It is time for the exception to go and for marital rape to be criminalised. Given that globally rape and other acts of sexual violence are underreported, it is unlikely that criminalising marital rape will lead to a flurry of cases against husbands. Nearly 30% of women in India, according to the latest National Family Health Survey, say they have faced spousal violence (physical and sexual), yet that is not matched by numbers of actual cases filed under the relevant laws. However, removing the exception will provide some women with an option they otherwise lack, ensure equality and dignity, and centre the importance of consent and autonomy of women.

CORPORATE CHARITY, MANDATING CSR SPENDING & TAXES

PRASANNA TANTRI

Teaches finance at the Indian School of Business

SOUMYADIP SINHA

The celebrated economist Milton Friedman once famously remarked, "The nineteenth century ... a period when ... the spending of the federal government, in Washington, amounted to less than 3% of the national income, ... let me point out that, that was also the period of the greatest flowering of charitable activity in the United States." Given that we are one of the very few countries that mandate firms to spend on corporate social responsibility-related activities, understanding the relationship between corporate taxes and CSR spending is important in the Indian context. I find a negative relationship between CSR and tax payments in the data. The corporate social responsibility mandate reduced tax compliance, whereas the 2019 corporate tax cut increased CSR spending.

Section 135 of the Companies Act of 2013 requires the qualifying firms to spend at least 2% of their average three-year after-tax profits on CSR-related activities. The qualification criteria are based on the level of sales, net worth and profits. Firms that breach any one of the specified thresholds are required to spend at least 2% of their profits on CSR-related activities. Even if beneficial to the broader society, direct business expenditure is not counted as CSR. A failure to comply requires an explanation from the board. The law does not clearly define what can be considered a reasonable explanation for non-compliance. Several show-cause notices have been issued to alleged non-compliant firms. Expectedly, several business executives have expressed reservations about mandating CSR spending, and NGOs, by and large, welcome the law.

In a recent working paper, I compare the tax payment of firms that qualify into the law by a small margin and those that miss qualification by a narrow margin. Suppose the threshold is ₹500 crore in net worth. In that case, I compare firms with a net worth of ₹499 crore and those with ₹501 crore. The advantage of this design is that these firms are otherwise similar and are only separated by a threshold imposed by law. I find that firms that are forced to spend on CSR reduce tax payments significantly. Most interestingly, the reduction in tax payment is very close to the additional expenditure these firms are forced to incur due to the CSR mandate.

It appears that these firms treat forced CSR as tax. They resort to tax aggression to compensate for the loss and the paper shows why this becomes profitable when the CSR mandate is imposed. In short, tax-aggressive strategies that were not viable at a lower tax rate become feasible when additional CSR is considered a tax and added to it. The research design of comparing otherwise similar firms on both sides of the CSR cut-off ensures that the reduction in tax compliance can be attributed to the mandate.

Next, I ask what happened when the government cut corporate taxes significantly in September 2019. Firms received an option to reduce their effective corporate tax rate to close to 25%. Firms that opted for the lower marginal tax rate could not claim specified deductions. The tax cut was particularly beneficial to firms whose marginal tax rate was upwards of 35%. The cut substantially increased the free cash available in the hands of many firms. What do these firms do with the additional free cash flow?

> Business executives have expressed concerns about mandating CSR spending, and NGOs, by and large, welcome the law. ... Even if beneficial to broader society, direct business expenditure is not counted as part of corporate social responsibility. The exclusive focus on charity seems to have the unintended consequence of turning CSR into a tax

If Milton Friedman's observation quoted at the beginning is correct, firms that benefit from the tax cut should see an increase in CSR spending. Using a tight design of comparing similar companies differentially exposed to the tax cut, I find that firms that benefited significantly increased CSR spending. A 1% reduction in the effective tax rate leads to a close to 18% increase. Consider a firm spending ₹100 on CSR before the tax cut and experiencing a five percentage points reduction in its tax rate. Our results suggest that such a company nearly doubled CSR spending after the tax cut. The increase is over and above the minimum 2% of profits required by the law. Thus, the tax rate seems to have played a significant role in influencing corporate charity, especially during the pandemic's peak.

These results call for a debate about the current approach of mandating CSR spending in India. In its true spirit, charitable spending is only a part of corporate social responsibility. The scope of CSR is much broader. It includes responsible behaviour towards all stakeholders, including the environment, future generations, employees, residents of regions where a firm is located, the government and others. Thus, redesigning products to reduce the possible health hazards they are likely to cause or designing processes that minimise pollution may be as important as corporate charity. Most of these actions do not come under the purview of corporate social responsibility under the law. The law seems to define CSR narrowly as corporate charity and thus socially responsible actions like improving product design are not considered part of it. It is important to design policies that promote overall social responsibility rather than forcing all firms to spend on charity. The exclusive focus on charity and forcing firms to spend on it seems to have the unintended consequence of turning CSR into a tax.

WILL INCREASING MARRIAGE AGE TO 21 HELP WOMEN?

SONALI MAHESHWARI

Social development professional

Arrey ab ladki ki shaadi karaani hai. Kuch socha hai?... Ghar ka kaam sikhao, zyada ladko ke saath na milne do...(Have you thought about your girl's marriage? ... Teach her housework, don't let her mingle with boys a lot)—these are commonly uttered when it comes to discussions about the marriage of girls. Very rarely do we come across questions such as: "Is she legally eligible?", "What does she want", "Has she completed her education?", "Is she healthy and well enough to bear bigger responsibilities?"

The recently introduced Prohibition of Child Marriage (Amendment) Bill, 2021, which seeks to raise the age of legal marriage for women from 18 to 21, is said to be a pro-woman step towards gender equality and women empowerment, while also addressing the issues with underage marriages such as maternal mortality rate (MMR), infant mortality rate (IMR) and malnutrition. However, the potential of this step should be gauged based on data-centric evidence and not by the face value of the change in law.

India is usually near the bottom of global rankings on gender indicators. It also ranks among the lowest in the world when it comes to women's empowerment as it has the largest absolute number of girls who marry below the age of 18. The recently published National Family Health Survey-5 (NFHS-5) says that over 23% of women aged 20-24 got married before age 18. And the problem is more severe in rural areas, where the underage marriage rate is 27%. The statistics indicate that though we have laws well in place to prohibit child marriages, underage weddings are still a grave cause of concern. In light of the above data, the question is whether the rise in marriage age can really lead to women empowerment, gender equality, increased female participation in the labour market, autonomy and better health outcomes for women and children.

Gender parity is a practice and not mere legal acknowledgement of women's rights. Equating the age of marriage for men and women are notions of equality that are limited to the surface level and do not contribute to real empowerment. Again the fact is well reflected through the data on early marriages, despite the long-standing child marriage prohibition act.

Whether the age of marriage is 18 or 21, what's important is that girls should not be forced into early marriages. And marriages should not be the criteria to validate womanhood and then motherhood. Early marriages can be avoided when underlying causes such as fear for daughter's safety, social stigma, fear of inter-caste/community relationship, poverty, lack of education, societal pressure, fear of rise in dowry demand and burden to feed one extra member are addressed. Unfortunately none of these are getting addressed by changing a girl's age of marriage from 18 to 21. The National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB) data says that dowry-related matters accounted for the lives of 19 women daily in 2020. And a total of 6,966 cases of dowry deaths were reported in 2020.

In our minds, we associate a higher marriage age with improvement in MMR and IMR, i.e. rise in the age of marriage will lead to an increase in the age of motherhood, which means a healthier child and mother. But this is likely not true. Rather, women from privileged groups tend to marry late; hence, age looks like a deciding factor. Whereas the fact is that health indicators do not vary for women from less privileged groups even if they marry at a higher age. For instance, data from NFHS-4 shows that the level of anaemia, a key factor in MMR, shows no change even at marriage age up to 25 years, keeping other factors controlled. Hence, this points to the fact that poverty and malnourishment are the prime contributors to MMR and IMR.

> In our minds, we associate a higher marriage age with improvement in infant and maternal mortality rates. Or in other words, a rise in the age of marriage is thought to lead to an increase in the age of motherhood, which means a healthier child and mother. But this is likely not true. Rather, women from privileged groups tend to marry late; hence, age appears to be a deciding factor

Let us look at the issue of gender-based violence using a report published in 2018 by the NCRB: i) it shows that once every 1.7 minutes, a crime against a woman is recorded; ii) a woman is subjected to domestic violence every 4.4 minutes. This also topped the categories of violence against women, according to the report. A multi-country study by the World Bank a few years ago saw no significant gains from raising the age of marriage for women's decision-making or helping them find jobs. So, in a society where women have internalised the patriarchal notion of getting disrespected as valid—in NFHS-4, 52% of women respondents felt it was reasonable for the husband to hit his wife—how does the trend of deep-rooted gender stereotyping and bias get addressed while raising the marriage age?

It has been evident time and again that ensuring delayed marriage and pregnancy does not just depend on the legal age. On the other hand, the relationship between the level of education and early marriage is well established. Experts say that often the girl child drops out after primary school simply because she has no access to higher education and is then married off. Also, a study by the International Centre for Research on Women (ICRW) has found that girls out of school are 3.4 times more likely to be married or have their wedding already fixed than those who are still studying. Similarly, according to the State of the World Report 2020 by UNFPA, in India, 51% of young women with no education and 47% of those with only a primary education had married by age 18, compared to 29% of young women with a secondary education and 4% with post-secondary education. And with higher levels of education, women are also empowered to take decisions within the family and better equipped to inculcate safe sex, family planning and safe abortion practices.

Holistic empowerment is about enabling women to make informed decisions, giving access to facilities, enabling them to exercise greater agency in their family life and providing opportunities for good paid employment. And education automates the process of attaining the desired empowerment, which is more sustainable while also addressing the cycle of poverty, intergenerational malnutrition and early marriage. And for this, concerted efforts should be taken to i) keep girls in school for longer and ii) enable them to complete higher education or vocational training.

As we have seen, the current act will likely not have a substantial effect on issues of gender, violence and women's health. So expecting women empowerment just by raising the marriage age to 21 is too ambitious.

Inflation, Budget & polls

A war-like situation is developing very fast with Russia trying to surround Ukraine, which is being backed by the US. In view of this, Europe is extremely nervous, worried that its fuel security could be in jeopardy. For the first time, oil has touched $90 a barrel since 2014. These developments are likely to have a profound adverse impact on India's economy and the course of its recovery. Inflation is likely to skyrocket. It is hoped that the forthcoming Budget, instead of focusing on electoral calculations due to the upcoming Assembly polls, will look at 2022–23 and beyond, for the country cannot afford a continuing decrease in per capita GDP.

Diluting Lok Ayukta

The advocate general's opinion that Section 14 of the Kerala Lok Ayukta Act violated Articles 163 and 164 of the Constitution appears to ignore some basics. The proposed amendments would destroy the hopes of the public of a speedy redressal of their grievances. The CPM was sore over the findings of the Lok Ayukta that led to the exit of K T Jaleel, upon having been convicted, towards the fag end of its previous ministry. The need for the amendments in ordinance form can be attributed only to the ongoing complaints against the chief minister himself and also the higher education minister. So the compulsions of the AG are understandable to anyone.

Needs thorough cleansing

It is heartening that the Supreme Court has asked the Election Commission and the government to respond over irrational poll freebies announced before polls. On similar lines, the highest court should also force parties to make electoral bonds and donations totally transparent and prevent politicians with criminal backgrounds from contesting elections. There is no point in tackling issues in a piecemeal manner and the system should be cleansed thoroughly.

SC sets aside one-year suspension of 12 Maharashtra BJP legislators

Terming decision arbitrary, apex court says action against MLAs beyond Assembly's powers

KANU SARDA @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday set aside the one-year suspension of 12 BJP MLAs from the Maharashtra Assembly and said this could only have been in place for the monsoon session in July 2021. The court also termed the suspension unconstitutional and arbitrary.

A three-judge bench headed by Justice A M Khanwilkar said, "We have no hesitation in allowing these petitions. The resolutions are malicious in the eyes of law, unconstitutional, illegal, and declared to be ineffective in law. As a result of the stated declaration, petitioners are declared to be entitled to the benefits of Members of Legislative Assembly."

The 12 BJP MLAs were suspended from the Maharashtra Assembly for a year after the state government accused them of misbehaving with Presiding Officer Bhaskar Jadhav in the Speaker's chamber on the first day of the monsoon session, on July 5, 2021.

Allowing the petitions of the MLAs, the court said the resolutions passed by the Maharashtra Assembly were beyond its powers. "Suspension is essentially a disciplinary measure. It must follow that suspension for a period of one year would assume the character of punitive and punishment worse than expulsion. For, suspension for long period and beyond the session has the effect of creating a de facto vacancy though not a de jure vacancy," the order stated.

"Suspension beyond the session would be bordering on punishing not only the member concerned, but also inevitably impact the legitimate rights of the constituency from where the member had been elected."

The court also appeals for constructive, intelligent debates instead of brinkmanship and said, "The Parliament/Legislative Assembly are becoming more and more intransigent place. The philosophical tenet, one must agree to disagree is becoming a seldom scene or a rarity during the debates. It has become common to hear that the House could not complete its usual scheduled business and most of the time had been spent in jeering and personal attacks against each other instead of erudite constructive and educative debates consistent with the highest tradition of the august body."

The court said there should nolt be aggression during debates in such Houses and that matters should be settled in a more amicable manner.

For becoming world leaders and self-dependent, quality of debates ought to be of the highest order and directed towards constitutional and native issues confronting the common man —Supreme Court

NEOCOV CONCERN

India to monitor deadlier Covid variant found in SA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

INDIA is keeping an eye on reports of a Chinese study on coronavirus type NeoCov, which spreads among bats in South Africa.

Speaking to this newspaper, the Indian Council of Medical Research's Head of Epidemiology and Communicable Diseases, Dr Samiran Panda, said, "It has been reported from China. India is keeping an eye on this. It is too early to comment on how much of a real threat it poses for India or the world. Every country is keeping an eye on it," Dr Panda said.

The new variant has caused concern, as Chinese scientists in Wuhan, the epicentre of Covid, in a research paper, which is yet to be peer-reviewed, flagged concerns that the variant may mutate to harm humans.

NeoCov is related to Middle East respiratory syndrome, first reported from Saudi Arabia in 2012 and known for its severe lethality. The World Health Organisation has also said that the NeoCov coronavirus requires further study.

Coronaviruses are a large family of viruses that can cause diseases ranging from common cold to Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome.

But researchers, who recently highlighted the new variant, have warned that NeoCoV could spread using a similar technique used by Covid-19-causing SARS-CoV-2 with a higher transmission rate. Some reports also say that NeoCoV is not a "new" variant and was discovered much earlier. However, not much about the new variant is known at the moment.

Nod for Biotech's nasal vaccine third phase trials

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

BHARAT Biotech on Friday got the approval from the Drug Controller General of India (DCGI) to conduct Phase 3 trials of its Covid-19 intranasal vaccine (BBV154) to be used as a booster dose. This intranasal Covid-19 booster is the first of its kind in India.

"BBV154 has received approval for Phase 3 clinical trials. The trials will evaluate BBV154 nasal vaccine for both of the two doses — primary schedule and booster dose schedule," the Hyderabad-based company said in a statement.

Intranasal vaccines are easier to administer in mass immunisation campaigns and help reduce and prevent transmission of various Covid variants, including Omicron, which is pushing the current third wave.

The approval was given by DCGI's Subject Expert Committee (SEC). Bharat Biotech was asked to submit protocols for approval three weeks ago. The drug regulator had earlier given the nod for the regular market sale of two Covid vaccines — Covishield and Covaxin. But these two vaccines will be available only for adults and sold at hospitals and private clinics. The price is yet to be announced, although unofficial sources claim they would cost ₹275 per shot.

Road blockades and protests mark Bihar bandh

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

THE Bihar bandh called by Left wing organisations on Friday to protest against alleged discrepancies in the railway recruitment examinations passed off peacefully amid tight security arrangements.

In Patna, protestors clashed with security forces when they prevented them from proceeding towards Raj Bhavan, a prohibited zone. The bandh was supported by different political parties, including Rashtriya Janata Dal, Congress, three Left parties, Jan Adhikar Party and Lok Janshakti Party (Ram Vilas) and others.

Protestors put up road blockades, disrupted vehicular traffic, burnt tyres, stopped trains and forced closure of shops and business establishments in different parts of the state. Patna remained the main centre of protest where RJD and JAP workers took out processions, put up blockades and also indulged in vandalism.

Bandh supporters stopped Sampark Kranti Express at Darbhanga. Traffic on Gandhi Setu, which connects north Bihar with Patna, remained disrupted since morning.

Opposition parties were gearing up to derive political mileage from the job seekers' outburst. "We will not sit idle as the issue concerns the future of millions of aspirants," RJD spokesperson Shakti Singh Yadav said. He reiterated the party's resolve to raise the issue of unemployment.

JD-U national chief Rajiv Ranjan Singh demanded withdrawal of cases against students. In all, 34 aspirants were arrested and FIRs were lodged against 48 persons for damaging railways property.

Rlys may review recruitment process

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

FOLLOWING protests against alleged irregularities in the results of Non-Technical Popular Categories (NTPC) recruitment examinations, Indian Railways may review all existing recruitment methodologies before conducting the next round of recruitment drives.

"Violent protests reported from various parts of Bihar and Uttar Pradesh have made the railway ministry serious about reviewing the existing methodologies used for short-listing candidates in recruitment examinations, particularly with the NTPC examination," said an official.

It is also learnt that the railways may not conduct another mass recruitment drive until all concerns and doubts, raised by the protesting students and job aspirants are sorted out.

If sources are to be believed, the railway may also review the functioning of the Railway Recruitment Board. "Railway minister Ashwini Vaishnaw might have said there were no complaints against the way the NTPC examination was conducted, but fact is that the functioning of RRB has been exposed," said an official of the railways ministry.

A five-member committee, formed by the railway minister after the protests, has also been directed to look into the methodology, which are used by the RRB for short-listing the candidates in the examinations.

"Had the RRB acted wisely and taken grievances of disqualified candidates seriously, such an embarrassing situation could have been prevented," said a railway source, adding that the axe may also fall sooner or later on some chairpersons of the RRB offices.

The RRB, which functions under the Ministry of Railways, is entrusted with the task of conducting recruitment drives for various posts in the railways under Group C and D through its 21 offices spread across the country.

Defence biz: India inks first BrahMos missile export deal with Philippines

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

IN a first, the Indian defence manufacturing set-up has concluded a deal with the Philippines to supply the Brahmos supersonic cruise missile. The deal is seen as an important step in promoting responsible defence exports.

The Ministry of Defence (MoD) in a statement said, "BrahMos Aerospace Private Limited (BAPL) signed a contract with the Department of National Defence of the Republic of Philippines on January 28, 2022 for supply of Shore Based Anti-Ship Missile System to Philippines."

The contract was signed virtually by Defence Secretary of National Defence of Philippines, Delfin Lorenzana, and Director General of BAPL, Atul Dinkar Rane. "The contract is an important step forward for the government of India's policy of promoting responsible defence exports," the MoD statement added.

As reported earlier by ythis daily, the Philippines had approved a $374.96 million (₹2,700 crores) contract for the purchase of a shore-based anti-ship missile system from India. The notice was signed on December 31.

As per the initial deal, the Philippines will get three missile batteries of a missile system that has a range of 290 kms and a speed of 2.8 mach (thrice the speed of sound). The deal also encompasses training for operators and the necessary integrated logistics support package, said sources.

India has been in talks with Indonesia, Vietnam, Thailand and a few other nations that have shown interest in the system. The BrahMos missile can be launched from submarines, ships, aircraft or land.

On January 20, a new version of the missile was tested. Also, India on January 11 had successfully test-fired the extended-range sea-to-sea variant of the BrahMos supersonic cruise missile.

In Uttarakhand, Shah extols contribution of past & present soldiers

Dehradun: Union Home Minister Amit Shah held a door-to-door campaign and addressed poll meetings in Uttarakhand's Rudraprayag district, appealing to people to again vote the BJP for ensuring good governance. Shah, who offered prayers at Rudranath temple, distributed pamphlets listing the work done by the BJP government during its tenure and what the party plans to do during the next five years if it returns to power. He targeted the Congress dispensation, describing it as a government of "corruption and scams". Shah said soldiers from Uttarakhand are protecting the country from Ladakh to Kutch with valour.

'WE'RE SONS OF FARMERS, PACT IS ROCK SOLID'

Akhilesh adds he & Jayant are out together to save legacy of Jat icon Charan Singh

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

HITTING the battleground in western UP, Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav asserted on Friday that his alliance with Rashtriya Lok Dal was 'rock solid' following the BJP's overture to his RLD counterpart Jayant Chaudhary.

Flanked by Jayant, Akhilesh asserted that the alliance was very much together. "I want to convey to all those who had some misconception that we are together and our alliance is stronger," he said to a query over the feeler from Union Home Minister Amit Shah to Jayant two days ago. "One can understand their desperation. Look at their situation. They are inviting Jayant in the middle of elections," Akhilesh said, mocking at Shah's observation that the RLD chief was in a wrong family.

Jayant has already ruled out any possibility of a post-poll alliance with the BJP. While rejecting the BJP's offer, he said that instead of inviting him, the BJP should think of helping those 700 farmer families who lost their kin during the year-long agitation.

Western UP's 58 seats, including Muzaffarnagar, will go to polls in the first phase on February 10. The BJP is trying hard to hold the Jat vote given that the community supported it overwhelmingly since the 2014 general elections. It realises the anger among the Jat farmers over the contentious farm laws and the consequent unrest despite the Centre repealing the acts in November last year.

In Muzaffarnagar, Akhilesh claimed that his alliance with Jayant should be known as the 'sons of two farmers'. He was responding to a query over the analogy with his alliance with Rahul Gandhi in 2017 and they way it was known as 'UP ke ladke' (boys of UP).

The SP chief, meanwhile, reiterated his promises including 300 units of free electricity to all, free electricity to farmers for irrigation, MSP for every crop, payment of arrears to cane growers in 15 days, a corpus fund for making the payments of cane growers, interest-free loans, insurance and restoration of old pension scheme. He also promised to continue the distribution of free laptop to students like in his previous rule.

Defection-hit Congress relies on Left support to cut BJP votes in Manipur

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

HIT hard by the defection of its MLAs to the BJP, the Congress has forged a pre-poll alliance with four Left parties and Janata Dal (Secular).

While the sole goal is to oust the BJP from power, dislodging the saffron party will not be a cakewalk. The BJP is on a firm footing in alliance with National People's Party and Naga People's Front and there are no visible signs of anti-incumbency.

However, the BJP's challenge might come from within. It has at least two-three ticket aspirants in most of the 60 constituencies. There is a possibility of disgruntled leaders to Congress and NPP. Sensing this, the two parties have not declared the names of all their candidates.

The Congress has announced 40 candidates and the NPP 20. The CPI has declared two candidates. The Congress and its allies will hold consultations before taking a decision on the remaining 18 seats.

The Congress believes the pre-poll alignment could be a game changer. "We have a targeted reason. As the Left parties have many membership card holders, they took three months to arrive at a decision on supporting us for the specific reason that the BJP should be ousted. That is their only agenda. Ours is also the same," Congress spokesperson K Debabrata said.

The Congress believes the Left will help it win more seats, especially those where victory margin is less than 1,000 votes. "The Left parties are spread over 25-26 constituencies in the Imphal Valley. They don't have winning numbers but they do have deciding numbers."

Debabrata said the CPI's M Nara came second in the four general elections he had contested prior to 2019. As regards the JD (S), he said it has a small number of followers in several constituencies. "But the JD-S matters to us. It could influence 200-500 voters in some seats."

Nara said the "like-minded parties" had to come together to take on the BJP. Similarly, CPI-M's Kshetrimayum Shantakumar Singh said the parties was together to defeat the BJP.

Political analyst Pradip Phanjoubam said the formation will have an advantage only if there is a hung House. "The parties entering into a pre-poll alliance have to be given the first preference."

Daughters of two ex-CMs out to avenge defeat

DEHRADUN: Anupama Rawat and Ritu Khanduri may be in different parties but both are looking to avenge their fathers' electoral defeat.

While Anupama is the national general secretary of Congress women's wing, Ritu is the state president of the BJP's women wing.

Anupama, the daughter of former chief minister Harish Rawat who lost in Haridwar Rural in 2017, is contesting from the same seat. "People of the constituency as well as the state have realised that not electing my father has not gone in their favour. I am contesting with the hope that people know which party and its workers are good for the welfare of the state," said Anupama.

Rawat had also lost in Kiccha in 2017.

BJP's Ritu Khanduri, whose father BC Khanduri was a sitting CM who lost to the Congress in 2012, is fighting from Kotdwar. "I am a dedicated party worker and ready to abide by the decision of the party. I will work hard and people will support me," the Yamkeshwar MLA said. Vineet Upadhyay

FIVE MR & MRS THROW HATS IN GOA POLL RING

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

FIVE power couples have thrown in their hat in the Goa Assembly elections due February 14.

Vishwajit Rane and his wife Divya Vishwajit Rane have earned BJP's nomination from Valpoi and Poriem constituencies respectively in north Goa.

Rane is the sitting MLA from Valpoi. The Poriem seat is represented by Congress MLA Pratap Singh Rane, who is the son of Vishwajit Rane and father-in-law of Divya Rane.

Atanasio Babush Monserrate and his wife Jennifer, who was revenue minister in the Pramod Sawant government, are contesting from Panaji and Taleigao constituency respectively. Taleigao is the traditional constituency of Monserrate's family. Babush Monserrate was given the BJP ticket, denying former CM Manohar Parrikar's son Utpal Parrikar in Goa's capital, Panaji.

Monserrate was elected to the 2019 Goa state assembly from the Panaji constituency when he left the Congress and joined the BJP. Earlier the Panaji seat was represented for Manohar Parrikar for more than 25 years as an MLA. Interestingly, Babus Monserrate's son Rohit is also the Mayor of Panaji Municipal Corporation.

Deputy Chief Minister of Goa Chandrakant Kavlekar is contesting from Quepem seat on a BJP ticket while his wife Savitri would fight as an independent after she was denied the BJP ticket from Sanguem. She was vice president of Mahila Morcha of BJP. She resigned and announced her independent candidature from Sanguem.

The TMC has nominated Kiran Kandola from Aldona constituency while his wife Kavita from Tivim constituency. Earlier, the couple was with the Goa Forward Party, which denied them the ticket. So, the Kandola couple joined TMC and are contesting on the TMC symbol.

Another power couple is Michael Lobo. The Congress has nominated him Calangute seat and his wife Delilah Lobo will contest from the Siolim constituency. Mr Lobo was the BJP minister in the Pramod Sawant government in Goa. Lobo's wife Delilah was denied a ticket by BJP therefore he left the BJP and joined the Congress.

"The BJP always talks about 'one family one ticket', but when it came to Goa they forgot their policy and gave the ticket to the power couple. However, denied to Mr Lobo and Utpal Parrikar. No party can survive and win the elections if the dynasty is not helped and promoted. All parties have to forget their principles if they want to win the elections in Goa," a political observer said.

Canada confirms Gujarat family froze to death

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Ahmedabad

TEN days after four people were found frozen to death in a Manitoba field near the US-Canada border, the authorities identified them as a family from Kalol tehsil of Gandhinagar district in Gujarat.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) found Jagdish Patel (39), Vaishali Jagdish Patel (37), Vihangi Jagdish Patel (11) and three-year-old Dharmik Jagdish Patel, all from the same family, dead near Emerson, Manitoba, approximately 12 metres from the Canada/US border on January 19.

RCMP crosschecked their identities with Canada's High Commission of India who confirmed them. RCMP superintendent Rob Hill told reporters that the Patel family first arrived in Canada on 12 January, on a flight to Toronto. From there, they made way west to Manitoba, before traveling to Emerson on or around 18 January. Their bodies were found the next night.

The Ministry of External Affairs said the Indian missions in Canada and the US were following the case closely. "The Canadian authorities have confirmed that all four who perished were Indian nationals who belonged to one family. The next of kin of the deceased have now been informed," the MEA said in a statement. "Our High Commission in Ottawa and our Consulate General in Toronto are working closely with the Canadian authorities on all aspects of the investigation and providing consular services to the family of the deceased."

Meanwhile, one of the family members of the Patel family said: "It has been confirmed that the bodies of Jagidash, his wife and children are from our own family. After discussions with many of our family members, we have finally decided not to bring the bodies to India. The funeral will be held in Canada."

Luizinho Faleiro steps aside, woman advocate to contest from Fatorda

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @ Belagavi

IN a significant political development on Friday, former Goa chief minister and Trinamool Congress national vice-president Luizinho Faleiro withdrew his candidature from Fatorda assembly constituency. In his place, the TMC fielded advocate Seoula Vas.

The replacement of the candidate was announced in the presence of Lok Sabha MP and AITC Goa in-charge Mahua Moitra and Goa TMC candidate from Benaulim Churchill Alemao, in Margao.

On the occasion, Luizinho Faleiro said, "I hand over the baton for Fatorda to a young, dynamic woman advocate, Seoula Vas. I am grateful to the national chairperson of TMC Mamata Banerjee for giving me an opportunity to serve the people of Goa. However, given my experience, it is my duty to work at the state level and campaign across Goa for the success of all the candidates. I did not want to limit myself to one seat so I requested the party to give the ticket to a young woman. And let me assure you, this will be a grand battle between David and Goliath."

Reiterating that it was not a last-minute decision, Mahua Moitra said, "We are here to give a great fight in Fatorda. If you miss this chance to vote for a fresh, credible candidate now, do not blame us later that you did not have a choice. We have taken this decision in favour of an educated, young, dynamic woman who is not connected to any political family."

She said this decision is in line with the party's vision of women empowerment, giving Goa fresh, credible faces and ensuring that spirited youth are a part of the decision-making process at large. Expressing her gratitude, Seoula Vas said, "I am ready to take on Vijai Sardesai, who is the reason for all the political instability in Fatorda and Goa." Churchill Alemao reminded Goenkars of the massive formal in scam.

SRI LANKA TO AMEND CONTROVERSIAL ANTI-TERROR LAW

COLOMBO

SRI LANKA will amend a controversial anti-terror law that gives police sweeping powers to arrest suspects without trial to fully align it with international standards, amid mounting pressure from the EU and the UN Human Rights Council over concerns it violates human rights.

The government issued a gazette notification on Thursday saying the Prevention of Terrorism Act (PTA) will be amended. Enacted in 1979, the PTA allows authorities to make warrantless arrests and searches if a person is suspected of involvement in a 'terrorist activity'. The move comes ahead of the March session of the UNHRC in Geneva where Sri Lanka's rights and progress accountability has come under review.

The bill proposes a number of amendments and ensures the suspects are allowed to approach the Supreme Court on grounds of violation of their fundamental rights and seek relief, officials said. It proposes to allow for legal access to the person in custody and also permits relatives to communicate with the detainee. The period of detention is to be reduced from 18 months to 12 months, they said.

The amendment makes it compulsory for magistrates to visit the place of detention of the suspect to ensure that the detainee is protected from torture or any degrading treatment. It also includes provisions to allow a suspect to be produced before a judicial medical officer to ensure that such a person has not been subjected to torture.

The European Union (EU) has been urging Sri Lanka since 2017 to amend the PTA to make it fall in line with international standards. The European Parliament in June last year passed a motion for a resolution demanding that the PTA be scrapped as it "breaches human rights, democracy and the rule of law".

Sri Lanka has been marred by over three-decade-long brutal civil war that ended with the death of Liberation Tigers of Tamil Eelam (LTTE) chief Velupillai Prabhakaran in the coastal village of Mullaittivu in 2009. PTI

US tries to name & shame Russian disinformation on Ukraine

WASHINGTON/MOSCOW

IN a break from the past, the United States and its allies are increasingly revealing their intelligence findings as they confront Russian preparations for a possible invasion of Ukraine, looking to undercut Russian President Vladimir Putin's plans by exposing them and deflecting his efforts to shape world opinion.

The White House in recent weeks publicised what it said was a developing Russian "false-flag" operation to create pretext for an invasion. Britain named specific Ukrainians it accused of having ties to Russian intelligence officers plotting to overthrow President Volodymyr Zelenskyy. The US also released a map of Russian military positions and detailed how officials believe Russia will try to attack Ukraine.

Russia is known for using disinformation as a tactic to sow confusion and discord as part of its overall conflict strategy. When Russia invaded Ukraine's Crimean Peninsula in 2014, it mounted a campaign to sway ethnic Russian residents of the territory. State media and social media accounts linked to Russia promoted allegations that the West was manipulating protests in Kyiv and false or unconfirmed tales of lurid crimes committed by Ukrainian forces.

This time, the US and allies say, Russia is trying to portray Ukrainian leaders as aggressors and to persuade its own citizens to support military action. At the same time, they allege, Russia has positioned operatives in eastern Ukraine who could use explosives to carry out acts of sabotage against Russia's own proxy forces and then blame Kyiv.

A European Union official told reporters Friday that Moscow-aligned outlets are promoting justifications for conflict in a similar manner to eight years ago. One narrative those outlets are promoting — in apparent response to the recent American allegations — is the US may be planning its own false-flag operation to trigger a confrontation in eastern Ukraine.

'Russia doesn't want war, won't start one'

Meanwhile, Russia's top diplomat said on Friday that Moscow will not start a war in Ukraine but warned that it wouldn't allow the West to trample on its security interests.

Biden had warned Ukraine's leader a day earlier that there is a 'distinct possibility' Russia could take military action against the former Soviet state in February. "There won't be a war as far as it depends on the Russian Federation, we don't want a war," Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov said in a live radio interview. "But we won't let our interests be rudely trampled on and ignored." AP

BALTIC NATIONS

The small Baltic countries of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania, which have known the repercussions of a Russian invasion, are some of the most proactive supporters of Ukraine. The three members of NATO asked and received permission from the US to send Ukraine American-made weapons, including FGM-148 Javelin anti-tank missiles and the fearsome FIM-92 Stinger anti-aircraft missile, which all but destroyed the Soviet Union's dreams in Afghanistan in the 1980s after the CIA supplied the Afghan mujahideen with the weapon.

Google invests $1 billion in Airtel

To pick 1.28% stake in Airtel for $700 m over 5 years; puts $300 m for multi-year pacts

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

IN what appears to be a bid to stop Mukesh Ambani-owned Jio's unrelenting run in the telecom market, Bharti Airtel has tied up with Google in a deal that will see the US tech giant investing up to $1 billion in India's second largest telecom company.

The deal includes investment of $700 million to acquire 1.28% ownership in Airtel over the next five years and up to $300 million toward potential multi-year commercial agreements.

As per the partnership, Airtel and Google will focus on enabling affordable access to smartphones across price ranges, and will continue to explore building on their existing partnerships to potentially co-create India-specific network domain use cases for 5G and other standards.

Sundar Pichai, CEO of Google and Alphabet, said their commercial and equity investment in Airtel is a continuation of Google for India Digitization Fund's efforts to increase access to smartphones, enhance connectivity to support new business models.

"With our future ready network, digital platforms, last mile distribution and payments ecosystem, we look forward to working closely with Google to increase the depth and breadth of India's digital ecosystem," said Sunil Bharti Mittal, Chairman of Bharti Airtel.

Though experts believe such tie-ups will only strengthen telecom market in the country benefitting all players, many see it as Airtel's attempt at blunting competition from Jio

Navkendar Singh, Research Director of IDC, thinks the partnership can be seen as an effort to counter Jio by going after the same base of half a billion telco consumers who use feature phones or no phone.

With our future-ready network, digital platforms... we look forward to working closely with Google to increase the depth and breadth of India's digital ecosystem

Sunil Mittal, Airtel chairman

Last year, RIL Chairman Mukesh Ambani and Google CEO Pichai partnered to come up with the "most affordable smartphone" in the world.

However, Prabhu Ram, Head of Industry Intelligence Group of CyberMedia Research (CMR), believes the headroom for growth in India's smartphone market is immense, and more such initiative would help swiften India's digital transformation.

Faisal Kawoosa, Chief Analyst Techarc, opined that the country needs such tie-ups to expand its digital user base which present smartphones cannot do beyond a point.

"Google will attempt such partnerships with multiple operators if it has to see India having more smartphone/ digital users which cannot come through a single operator," said Faisal Kawoosa.

SC: SpiceJet must settle with Credit Suisse in three weeks

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday gave private carrier SpiceJet three weeks to resolve its financial dispute with Swiss firm Credit Suisse. However, an apex court bench, headed by Chief Justice of India NV Ramana, showed displeasure on the way the airline has conducted in the case and even said about declaring it insolvent.

"What is this? Do you want to run or close the shop ... you better produce your financial status. It is not the way to run your airlines. You cannot say that you are a busy airline and I do not want to pay anybody. You see this as serious matter. If you do not want to run the airline then we will declare that you are insolvent and go for the liquidation," the top court said this to lawyer Harish Salve who was representing SpiceJet.

Salve sought a three week adjournment of the case. He added that they are working out something and they will make a serious offer soon. Senior advocate KV Vishwanathan, appearing for the Swiss firm, however, said that the present offer made by SpiceJet is "not even worth mentioning".

The case relates to the non-payment of $24 m (₹180 crore) by SpiceJet to the Swiss firm.

"Senior counsel Harish Salve sought three weeks' time for trying to resolve the matter and Mr KV Vishwanathan (appearing for the Swiss firm) also agreed to the adjournment. Meanwhile, the high court order is stayed for three weeks," the bench, also comprising justices AS Bopanna and Hima Kohli, ordered.

Earlier the Madras High Court had permitted winding-up petition and directed the official liquidator to take over the assets of the low-cost airline. This forced SpiceJet to rush to the apex court.

A SpiceJet spokesperson said, "The SC has today stayed the Madras High Court order against SpiceJet to facilitate settlement between SpiceJet and Credit Suisse. Both parties are already in advanced discussions to settle the matter."

QUARTERLY RESULTS

L&T profit falls 17% to ₹2,055 cr, revenue up 11%

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ENGINEERING and construction major Larsen & Toubro (L&T) on Friday reported 17% fall in consolidated net profit to ₹2,055 crore for the December quarter as against a profit of ₹2,467 crore in the same quarter last year. L&T's revenue from operations came in at ₹39,563 crore, up 11 % against ₹35,596 crore in the corresponding quarter last year.

The results were broadly in lines with market expectations.

The company witnessed 31% fall in order book as it bagged orders worth ₹50,359 crore during the quarter. The steep fall came on a much larger base due to high-speed rail corridor awarded last year. Overall, L&T said that its order book at the end of the quarter was at a record high of ₹3.4 lakh crore.

L&T said international orders stood at ₹20,521 crore, comprising 41% the total order inflows, with receipt of large value international orders in hydrocarbon offshore. "...the company continues its planned path of winning targeted orders, focus on profitable execution of its large order book, leverage the strong growth momentum in its IT & TS portfolio and along with many other value-enhancing measures, is committed to creating sustainable long term returns to its stakeholders," it said.

However, the company warned that growth could be marred by higher commodity prices and supply-side constraints. "The global macroeconomic environment is likely to slow down with vaccine inequality and rapid spread of the Omicron variant. The world's largest economies are expected to see a delay in the recovery process with deceleration in activity, diminished fiscal support, rising inflation, and lingering supply bottlenecks," it said.

Vedanta's Q3 net profit rises 27% to ₹4,189 crore

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

ANIL Agarwal-led Vedanta Ltd on Friday reported a 27% year-on-year (YoY) growth in consolidated net profit at ₹4,189 crore for the third quarter ended December 31, 2021. Its revenue from operations for the December quarter rose 50% to ₹34,097 crore from ₹22,735 crore in the corresponding period last fiscal.

The revenue for Q3 stood at ₹33,697 crore, higher by 50% year-on-year. The reason for the growth, the company said, is primarily supported by improved commodity prices and higher sales volume across businesses, partially offset by lower sales volume at Zinc International and iron and steel business.

The company witnessed 12% growth in revenue quarterly in FY22. EBITDA and EBITDA margin for Q3 FY22 was at ₹10,938 crore, up 42% from the last year same period. This partially offset higher cost of production impacted by commodity inflation. EBITDA for Q3 FY2022 was higher by 3% quarterly, primarily supported by improved commodity prices and higher sales volume across businesses, partially offset by higher cost of production due to higher input cost.

Britannia's net profit falls 19%

New Delhi: FMCG major Britannia Industries Ltd on Friday reported a consolidated net profit of `371 crore for the quarter ended December 2021, a decline of 19% from ₹456 crore reported in the corresponding quarter a year ago. The company had recorded a post-tax profit of `384 crore in the previous quarter. Revenue for the company stood at ₹3,575 crore, up 13%, compared to ₹3,165 crore reported in the year-ago period. Varun Berry, MD, said, "While the rural markets across FMCG witnessed significant slowdown, we were able to maintain a significant competitive advantage through our focus to enhance rural footprint and our diligent market practices.

Marico profit up 1.6% to 317 cr

New Delhi: FMCG major Marico has reported December quarter profit of ₹317 crore as compared to ₹312 crore net profit posted during the corresponding period last year. The company's revenue for the quarter stood at ₹2,407 crore, a growth of over 13% on a year-on-year basis. Marico's board of directors also declared an interim dividend of ₹6.25 per equity share of `1 each at its meeting held on the same day. In India, unabated inflation across the consumer basket led to moderation in consumption patterns and the share of wallet of staples, while discretionary and out-of-home categories fared better owing to some degree of pent-up demand, the company said in a regulatory filing.

Kotak Mahindra Bank net up 31%

Mumbai: Private sector lender Kotak Mahindra Bank on Friday reported a 30.79% jump in its consolidated December quarter net profit at ₹3,402.74 crore, helped by an all-round performance across subsidiaries. On a standalone basis, the city-based lender posted a 15% rise in post tax net profit at ₹2,131.36 crore, with a rise in operating expenses restricting the growth. The bank's core net interest income rose 11.81% to ₹4,334 crore, on an 18% jump in advances and a 0.26% expansion in the net interest margin to 4.62%. Other income grew marginally to ₹1,363.66 crore, suppressed by a ₹484 crore loss on its bond investments.

MARKET WATCHDOG FINES CITI $45 M FOR MISCONDUCT

Hong Kong's market regulator has fined a Citigroup subsidiary $45 million for misconduct in its cash equities business and is launching disciplinary proceedings against some former senior managers at the bank. The Securities and Futures Commission (SFC) said on Friday that some of Citigroup Global Markets Asia Ltd's (CGMAL) trading desks had issued inaccurate "indications of interest" in stocks to generate client inquiries and had also made misrepresentations to customers when executing some trades. The SFC said senior CGMAL managers attended a roundtable with the watchdog in 2014 during which it drew attention to common deficiencies found in the market, and that it also issued a circular in 2018 providing further guidance. The SFC said senior CGMAL managers attended a roundtable with the watchdog in 2014 during which it drew attention to common deficiencies found in the market, and that it also issued a circular in 2018 providing further guidance. Despite both these efforts, CGMAL still failed to identify the misconduct or rectify its failures, the SFC said. It said it would, in due course, start disciplinary proceedings against former members of the bank's management it considered responsible for the misconduct.

SINGAPORE

JOBLESS RATE RETURNING TO PRE-PANDEMIC LEVELS

Singapore's manpower ministry said on Friday it expects the country's jobless rate to fall to pre-pandemic levels in the months ahead as the unemployment situation continues to improve, with borders slowly reopening and retrenchments declining. Data showed on Friday that the overall preliminary unemployment rate in December was 2.4% compared with 2.5% in November. Total employment, excluding migrant domestic workers, grew by 47,400 in the fourth quarter, with non-resident employment seeing growth for the first time in eight quarters, as the country eased border restrictions. The 2021 annual unemployment rate improved to 2.6% from 3.0% in 2020, according to Friday's preliminary data. It is still higher than the rate of 2.3% in 2019 before the pandemic. The final figures will be released in March.

JAPAN

IMF URGES GOVT TO SCALE BACK PANDEMIC SUPPORT

The International Monetary Fund urged Japan on Friday to scale back emergency pandemic support, and consider raising taxes on property and capital income once the economy's recovery from the coronavirus pandemic-induced doldrums is firmly in place. While authorities must keep supporting households most hard hit by the Covid-19 crisis, they should continue scaling down pandemic-relief measures as the economy recovers, the IMF said. "Looking ahead, given the large uncertainty surrounding the pandemic, fiscal policy should be nimble and flexible, adjusting the scale and the composition of support in response to epidemiological and economic developments," the IMF said after a routine monitoring of the economy, known as its Article 4 process. Japan's economic recovery is likely to strengthen this year, though the balance of risks is tilted to the downside, it said. Once the recovery is firmly in place, Japan must resume efforts to rein in its huge debt such as by cutting ballooning medical costs for a rapidly ageing population, it said. Raising the consumption tax rate from the current 10%, as well as hiking property and capital income taxes, could also be among options, the IMF said.

DHFL case: Piramal mulling legal option after NCLAT order

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Mumbai

PIRAMAL Capital & Housing Finance Ltd (PCHFL) will consider moving the Supreme Court after NCLAT directed the DHFL committee of creditors (CoC) to reconsider the appeal of 63 moons (formerly Financial Technologies), the company said.

PCHFL said in an intimation to the stock exchanges that it had "analysed" the detailed judgement of the NCLAT and added that the DHFL acquisition by the group "remains unaffected and the business integration continues as envisaged."

The appeal, it said, was limited to the extent of challenging the distribution of proceeds (if any) from fraudulent transactions to the benefit of the Resolution Applicant (Piramal).

63 moons' petition is against Piramal group ascribing ₹1 value to ₹40,000 crore worth of recoverable assets in the DHFL case. 63 moons had NCDs of ₹200 crore in DHFL.

The petitioner said the CoC would have to reconsider the provision of section 66 of IBC, which mandates that the benefit (of recoveries) should go to all the creditors of DHFL. However, the CoC had, in its resolution plan, overlooked this provision to the benefit of Piramal Group.

"If CoC considers this without alteration of provision of section 66 of IBC, all creditors of DHFL will be benefited," 63 moons said in a press release.

In September 2021, PCHFL acquired DHFL for a total consideration of ₹34,250 crore.

PCHFL has retained over 3,000 employees of the DHFL Group and are also adding over 2,000 new jobs in the merged entity. New origination of affordable housing loans has been restarted at all 301 branches across the country.

MEIL bags 12 areas for city gas distribution

THE Petroleum and Natural Gas Regulatory Board (PNGRB) has allotted 12 geographical areas (GAs) to Megha Engineering & Infrastructures Ltd (MEIL) out of the 52 GAs for which results were announced on Friday.

The PNGRB had called for bids for City Gas Distribution (CGD) projects in 65 geographical areas (GA) across India under 11th round of bidding.

The results were declared only in respect of 52 GAs and nobody bade for four of the areas. Results for the remaining GAs were withheld due to election code in five states.

In fact, soon after the bidding process, MEIL emerged the top bidder bagging 15 GAs. The MEIL had bade for 43 GAs (Geographical Areas) out of 61.

The GAs allotted to MEIL are in the states of Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan, Maharashtra, Odisha, Tamilnadu, Karnataka and Telangana.

Under this City Gas Distribution (CGD) project, the awarded companies or agencies need to construct city gate station / mother stations, laying main pipeline and distributory pipeline and CNG stations. ENS

Zomato to set up NBFC; buys stake in Adonmo

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

FOOD delivery company Zomato will foray into the financial services business with the launch of a non-banking finance company (NBFC). Zomato's board has approved the incorporation of an NBFC, which will be a wholly-owned subsidiary of the company.

Also, the company will pick up a 19.48% stake for about ₹112.20 crore in adtech company Adonmo and will buy a 5% stake for ₹37.38 crore in B2B software platform UrbanPiper Technology.

"Both UrbanPiper and Adonmo investments are synergistic to our core business and will help accelerate growth of these companies which will help in filling important gaps in the food ordering and delivery ecosystem in India," Zomato said in its filings.

As far as the NBFC is concerned, the proposed paid-up capital will be ₹3 crore and the proposed authorised capital will be ₹10 crore. Zomato is yet to finalise its name.

Adonmo is a new age start-up pioneering a technology fuelled transformation in outdoor advertising. The company's turnover in the last fiscal was about ₹3.27 crore. Zomato said its investments in Adonmo will help the company grow its business and also help its food ordering and delivery business leverage new digital avenues.

Founded in 2016, UrbanPiper is a B2B software platform that acts like a "middle layer" between restaurants and food ordering and delivery players and enables restaurants to integrate with multiple players through a single digital interface. About 80% of restaurants still use legacy systems or manual processes leading to delay in order flow and errors in order processing.

UrbanPiper solves this problem for restaurants through technology helping more restaurants become "food-delivery ready", Zomato said.

UrbanPiper processes 12 million orders a month at over 23,000 restaurant locations in the country. The company's turnover in the last fiscal was over ₹6.33 crore.

In 2021, Zomato said it plans to invest $1 bn in start-ups over the next 2 years and it had invested in Curefit and Shiprocket.

Relief for players, match officials after BCCI confirms Ranji

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

IN the end, there was a collective sigh of relief. The news that hundreds of domestic cricketers, umpires, match-officials, scorers and analysts were waiting to hear with bated breath for the last three weeks arrived on Friday morning as BCCI secretary Jay Shah announced that the Ranji Trophy for 2021/22 season will be held in two phases sandwiched between the IPL. Ever since the board suspended the domestic season on January 4 citing the third Covid wave, there were concerns among the stakeholders whether the Ranji Trophy will go ahead this season.

And last week, it emerged that the BCCI was looking to call off the Ranji Trophy for a second successive season citing the short window. Ever since this daily reported the development, the pressure has been growing from several quarters with few state units, former and current cricketers asking the board to host the Ranji Trophy. And a day after the meeting of the top brass of the board ended without any clear cut decision on resuming the domestic season, Shah said the BCCI will host the tournament. "Board has decided to conduct the Ranji this season in two phases. In the first phase, we plan to complete all matches of the league stage while the knockouts will be held in June. My team is working closely to mitigate any kind of health risk caused by the pandemic, while at the same time ensuring a highly competitive red-ball cricket contest. Ranji Trophy is our most prestigious domestic competition, which has been providing Indian cricket with an enviable talent pool every year. It is absolutely important that we take all necessary steps to safeguard the interest of this premier event," Shah said in a statement.

In a letter sent to state units soon after, Shah said, the board is ready to host the tournament as the Covid situation is improving. With several states reopening schools, it is safe to say the BCCI could also no longer use the short-window as a reason to host the Ranji Trophy. "The daily positivity rate has now begun to decline while the recovery rate has been encouraging across India. We are now in a much better position to conduct the tournament than earlier. We will continue to have bio-secure bubbles to mitigate any potential risk. The Board is committed to providing a healthy and secure environment and seeks your support in ensuring a safe tournament for all our key stakeholders," Shah wrote in the letter accessed by this daily.

With this, hundreds of players who don't have an IPL contract will benefit monetarily. With the BCCI striking off the premier domestic tournament last season, the players received 50 per cent of their match fees for the 2020/21 season. But with a revised pay structure in place those playing the Ranji Trophy will get ₹40,000, ₹50,000 and ₹60,000 per day based on their match slab. With each team set to play a minimum of five league matches, any player who is part of the XI will get between ₹8 lakh to ₹12 lakh. Those who are part of the squad will earn ₹20,000, ₹25,000 and ₹30,000 depending on the match slab.

Similarly, umpires, match-referees who were earning around ₹18 lakh in 2019/20 season received only around ₹3-4 lakhs last domestic season. However, with the return of Ranji Trophy Grade A umpires will get ₹40,000 per day and those in Grade B, C and D will be paid ₹30,000. It is a big relief for several of these umpires, who had quit their professional jobs to take up umpiring and depend totally on this income to run their livelihood.

The BCCI is looking to start the Ranji Trophy by February 13-15 and finish the group stages by March 18. The teams will need to serve a three-day quarantine before the start. With regards to venues, the BCCI is likely to drop Mumbai and Thiruvananthapuram from its original list.

Natarajan eager to get back in national reckoning

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

IN late 2020, T Natarajan went to Australia as a net bowler with the Indian team, but came back as an India international, making his debut in all three formats. However, the fairytale run hasn't been the same as he has been riddled with injuries since.

A troublesome knee had rendered him unfit for the better part of last year. Although he played in Syed Mushtaq Ali Trophy final in November 2021 which Tamil Nadu won, he was not the same bowler as his knee kept giving away. After proper rest, medical care, systematic training and fitness schedule, Natarajan is back to bowling his normal self as he is sweating it out at M.A Chidambaram Stadium in Chennai, preparing for the Ranji season and the IPL.

"I am feeling fit and raring to go. My knee problem is a thing of the past. I have understood my body well and I am training hard to be in shape for the Ranji trophy and the IPL," said Natarajan. "I am bowling at a good rhythm. I enjoy training and understand the process associated with injury rehab much better now. I am hitting the nets at Chepauk, bowling at a lively pace. The follow through, loading and delivery stride is much better than what was in the past. I am enjoying my bowling, which is what is important," he said.

Pro League ties vital for our preparations, says Manpreet

ASHIM SUNAM @Bengaluru

THE last couple of weeks has been a tough period for sporting activities throughout India with the new Covid variant creating havoc. The likes of Indian Super League, Pro Kabaddi League, Women's Asian Cup among others have witnessed positive cases. Despite all these competitions being played under strict protocols, the virus has breached the bio bubble, which is a growing concern.

Even some of the hockey players at the SAI National Centre of Excellence, Bengaluru were tested positive last week though they were asymptomatic. It means that the players might not have an ideal preparation for the upcoming Pro League matches against South Africa and France in Potchefstroom from February 8-13. The Manpreet Singh-led squad along with the coaching staff will fly out from Bangalore for the Rainbow Nation on February 4.

"We have spent a lot of time to make sure that the bio bubble is created pretty much from the moment we leave from here in the bus," said head coach Graham Reid during a virtual interaction on Friday. The upcoming Pro League matches are important for India, who are staring at an important year ahead, including the Asian Games and the Commonwealth Games among others.

After an impressive bronze medal finish in the Olympics, they are expected to deliver in such big ticket events too. However, India could only finish third despite being favourites in the Asian Champions Trophy recently. The real preparation begins now with India naming a strong and experienced squad for FIH Pro League, with drag flicker Jugraj Singh and striker Abhishek being the new faces. Though both their upcoming opponents may not be ranked inside the top ten, it will help them understand their areas of improvement.

"We want to win these matches (against SA and France) and increase our confidence. It will help us understand where we stand and look at areas, which we need to improve upon as well because this is an important year for us. There is Asia Cup, Asian Games, CWG and many others. We need to maintain our fitness. We cannot treat any competition easy this year," said Manpreet.

Around 1,00,000 daily Covid-19 cases in Russia

Infections in the country started to soar nearly 3 weeks ago, with daily tallies spiking from 15,000 on Jan 10 to almost a lakh on Friday

COVID

MOSCOW: Russian authorities on Friday reported over 98,000 new confirmed coronavirus cases, but according to the Kremlin, the actual number is likely to be much higher as the highly contagious Omicron variant continues to rage through the vast country.

Russia's state coronavirus task force on Friday registered 98,040 new infections tallied over the past 24 hours—another all-time high for the country that in recent weeks has faced its biggest surge of contagions in the pandemic.

Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov told reporters on Friday that "it is obvious that this number is higher and possibly much higher," because "many people don't get tested" and have no symptoms. Peskov noted that Russia's numbers are "so far lower than in Western European countries, than in the US, so one can't rule out that it will grow further."

The Kremlin spokesman also admitted that a lot of people in the presidential administration have gotten infected with the virus. "The vast majority continue to work from home after having isolated themselves," Peskov said. "This explosive contagiousness of the Omicron, it demonstrates itself in full." Coronavirus infections in Russia started to soar nearly three weeks ago, with daily tallies of new cases spiking from about 15,000 on Jan 10 to almost 100,000 on Friday. Russian authorities, however, have avoided imposing any major restrictions to stem the surge, saying the health system has been coping with the influx of patients.

Peskov said on Friday there was no point in imposing "excessive restrictions" and cited "the world's experience." Earlier this month, parliament indefinitely postponed introducing restrictions on the unvaccinated that would have proven unpopular among vaccine-hesitant Russians. And this week health officials cut the required isolation period for those who came in contact with Covid-19 patients from 14 days to seven without offering any explanation for the move.

Russia had only one national lockdown, in 2020; although many Russians were ordered to stay off work for a week in October 2021 amid a jump in reported cases and deaths. In all, Russia's state coronavirus task force has reported more than 11.5 million confirmed cases and 329,443 deaths, by far the largest death toll in Europe.

Philippines to re-open to vaxxed foreign tourists

The Philippines will re-open to fully vaccinated tourists from most countries on February 10 and lift quarantine requirements, officials said on Friday, nearly two years after closing its borders to contain the coronavirus. Tourism operators across the archipelago nation famed for its beaches and dive spots have been devastated by a plunge in international visitors and restrictions on domestic travel

Germany says Omicron surge is 'under control'

Germany's Covid surge fuelled by Omicron remains "under control" despite a string of new infection records, the country's health minister said on Friday. Cases as a result of the contagious variant in the EU's most populous nation shot up at a later stage than in other countries. Officials attribute that to restrictions such as curbs on private gatherings and nightclub closures

The new study was done by Global Education Evidence Advisory Panel (GEEAP) and co-hosted by World Bank and UNICEF. It was released in January 20222

EXFILE • EDUCATION

PRIORITISING EDUCATION DURING THE PANDEMIC

As the pandemic struck, it was thought prudent to close down schools. However, a new report makes a strong argument on why schools should remain open and how unlike other sectors, which could recover from short-term closures, education could have long-term impacts. We take a look at how school closures are exacerbating the existing divides and overriding the gains, if any

WHEN 1 IS EQUAL TO 3

- Estimates has brought to light that if a class 3 child had lost a year of schooling during the pandemic, it translates into a loss of three years' worth of learning in the long run
- For instance, 17% of girls never re-enrolled in schools after Ebola in Sierra Leone, thus making a short-term shock into something that has far-reaching consequences

$17 TRILLION

A loss of $17 trillion of lifetime earnings is estimated in schoolchildren if urgent corrective measures is not adopted

HARDEST HIT

Children from low- and middle-income countries have been particularly badly affected due to longer average school closure times and lack of access to online modes of learning

1.6 BILLION

Over 1.6 billion students globally couldn't go to schools as the pandemic struck. With learning crisis already a reality in under-developed countries, Covid worsened it to a large extent

STATUS OF SCHOOLS ACROSS THE WORLD

The chart is compiled on the basis of data till April 30, 2020

75% LESS AND 2.5 TIMES MORE

In Sao Paulo, Brazil, a class five student learned 75% less and were 2.5 times more likely to drop out

In rural Karnataka, around a full year was lost for the students due to the pandemic

THE REPORT RECOMMENDS

PRIORITISING KEEPING SCHOOLS AND PRESCHOOLS FULLY OPEN

- Given the social, economic and mental health consequences, closure should only be viewed as a last resort to stem Covid cases
- Ensure that children keep attending the school by offering incentives and educating parents and kids

VACCINATE TEACHERS, USE MASKS AND IMPROVE VENTILATION

- Sharp reduction in Covid transmission in schools is observed when masks are used and proper ventilation is ensured
- Moreover, evidence shows that children are less likely to contract severe Covid

ADJUSTING THE INSTRUCTION TO REFLECT THE REALITY

- The disadvantaged and the marginalised have fallen behind, they should be given sufficient attention to get back on track
- One-size-fits-all mode of learning will not work for all sections of the society

ADDITIONAL SUPPORT TO TEACHERS

To help students cope with the losses of in-person classes and to adapt to hybrid modes of teaching

LEVERAGING EXISTING TECH

- The pandemic taught us the lesson that tech provided without the necessary infrastructure is of limited help
- Many low- and middle-income countries had limited access to the internet and hence resources could have been more content oriented—like text messages—that could have leveraged the existing feature phone infrastructure

INCREASING PARENTAL ENGAGEMENT

SMS text support or talking to parents over the phone have been proved to produce positive effects in the learning process

LOSSES BEYOND EDUCATION

1. About 370 million children were estimated to have lost on school meal programmes across the world in April 2020
2. The lockdowns have also widened existing gender inequalities. A survey—Presidential Policy and Strategic Unit & Population Council—in Kenya showed that nearly twice as many as girls did not return to schools in January 2021 after the lockdown
3. In addition, access to menstrual health products, contraception, etc. have been been severely compromised and there has been a rise in teenage pregnancies

HIV vaccine tests using mRNA tech begins

MEDICINE

WASHINGTON: Testing in humans of an HIV vaccine that uses messenger RNA technology has begun, the biotech firm Moderna and the International AIDS Vaccine Initiative said on Thursday.

This Phase 1 trial is being carried out in the United States among 56 healthy adults who are HIV negative. Despite four decades of research, doctors have yet to develop a vaccine to protect people from the virus that causes AIDS, which kills hundreds of thousands of people around the world each year.

But hopes have been stirred with the success of mRNA technology, which allowed for the development of coronavirus vaccines in record time, including one from Moderna.

The goal of the vaccine now being tested is to stimulate production of a kind of antibody called "broadly neutralising antibodies," or bnAbs, which can act against the many variants of HIV that are in circulation currenlty.

The vaccine is supposed to teach B lymphocytes, which are part of the immune system, to generate these antibodies.

In this trial, participants are injected with an immunogen—a substance that can trigger an immune response—and then a booster immunogen later.

These substances will be delivered with mRNA technology. The immunogens used in this trial were developed by IAVI and the Scripps Research Institute, with support from the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, the US National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases and Moderna. A trial last year tested the first immunogen but without employing mRNA technology. It showed that the desired immune response was triggered in dozens of people part of the research. The next step was to bring in Moderna with its new mRNA technique.

Thailand oil slick might threaten coastal ecosystem

ENVIRONMENT

BANGKOK : An oil slick off the coast of Thailand continued to expand on Friday and was approaching beaches on the east coast, home to fragile coral and seagrass, officials said.

The oil leak from an undersea hose at an offshore mooring point used to load tankers was stopped early Wednesday morning, but not before 140 to 375 barrels, or between about 22,000 and 60,000 litres, spilled into the Gulf of Thailand, according to Star Petroleum Refining, the operating company.

There are now two slicks, a small one about one square kilometer (less than half a square mile) that is closer to the coast and another that has broadened to 47 square kilometres (18 square miles) that is not far behind it, said Siam Lawawirojwong, director of the department that deals with disasters at Thailand's Geo-Informatics and Space Technology Development Agency.

The Royal Thai Navy, which has been part of the cleanup and containment effort, said that the main slick is expected to reach an area of coast including the Khao Lam Ya National Park by about 10 pm. The park is home to a variety of seabirds and fish.

NUCLEAR WASTE BURIAL PLAN

ENERGY

Sweden announced it was approving a plan to provide a final storage place for radioactive spent nuclear fuel by burying it in metal containers deep in bedrock. The site of the final storage will be a facility in Forsmark, about 130 kilometres north of Stockholm. "We are doing this to take responsibility, both for the environment and for people, but also for long-term electricity production and jobs," environment minister Annika Strandhall told a news conference.

CHANGE N95S EVERY 2-3 DAYS

COVID

How many times can you reuse your N95 mask? It depends, but you should be able to use N95s and KN95s a few times. The US Centres of Disease Control and Prevention says health workers can wear an N95 mask up to five times. But experts say how often the average person can safely wear one will vary depending on how it's used. The amount of time a mask is worn is more important than how frequently it's worn, says Richard Flagan, who studies masks and aerosols at the California Institute of Technology.

Operation to rescue young whale in Greece

ECOLOGY

ATHENS: Efforts were underway on Friday to rescue a small whale, apparently weak and injured, that got stranded on a beach in a suburb of the Greek capital. Live whale sightings are rare in Athens.

State TV ERT showed a vet taking a blood sample from the mammal as it bobbed in waist-high waters off Trocadero beach in the coastal suburb of Palio Faliro, weakly moving its tail. Coastguards kept watch from a dinghy nearby. Aimilia Drougas, an oceanographer from the Arion cetacean rescue centre, identified the mammal as a Cuvier's beaked whale.

She told AFP that the whale, apparently an adolescent from its size, had a snout injury and had originally appeared on Thursday a few kilometres to the south, in the suburb of Vouliagmeni. Arion staff had tried to coax it out to sea, but it had returned, she said.

BITTER CONFECTIONERY

Cookies were meant to protect privacy: Inventor

TECHNOLOGY

LONDON: The data-tracking "cookies" at the heart of concerns over online privacy were meant to shield people, rather than serve as cyber snoops, their inventor told AFP.

California-based engineer and entrepreneur Lou Montulli said the original "cookie" he created decades ago was intended to make life online easier by letting websites remember visitors.

Yet the technology has become a lightning rod, attacked for helping tech companies collect data on consumers' habits key to the targeted web ad business that makes many billions of dollars per year.

"My invention is at the technological heart of many of the advertising schemes, but it was not intended to be so," said Montulli, who created them in 1994 while an engineer at Netscape. "It is simply a core technology to enable the web to function," he said.

Google joined a growing list of tech companies this week by announcing a new plan to block certain types of cookies, after the online ad giant's previous proposals were roundly criticised.

When discussing his invention, Montulli said the software snippets that let a website recognise individuals helped make possible features such as automatic log-ins or remembering the contents of e-commerce shopping carts.

Without what are called "first-party" cookies—which also are used by websites to interact directly with visitors—every time a person went online, they would be treated as though it were their first time.

But Montulli pointed to trouble with so-called "third-party" cookies, those generated by websites and tucked into visitors' browsers, and ad networks that aggregate data from those snippets.

HIGH HOPES FOR LIGHTER BURDENS

Another bout of the pandemic, one akin to wildfire, has added to the weight the nation carries into the new year. Once again, health and well-being have taken over the priorities of the nation before we could address any other issue. But as the Union Budget of 2022 draws nigh, there is also hope for resolution. Some want GST reductions, others seek child protection. Where affordable housing is a discussion, there is also a concern for rising prices. When it comes to the allocation of the budget, what does the common citizen want?

ILLUSTRATION: SOUMYADIP SINHA

ASHWINI BRAGADEESH, dentist, Chennai

There needs to be action taken to control inflation. Apart from the rise in the price of vegetables and milk, the price of medicine has also gone through the roof. While there are measures taken for the lower rung of the society, the middle class too is getting badly affected after two years of the pandemic, induced pay cuts and job losses.

PADAM DUGAR, chairman, Dugar Housing Ltd and president, CREDAI CHENNAI

What we wish from this Budget is to give tax incentives to home buyers, which was there in previous Budget sesions. The salaried class is affected because they are unable to purchase even one home. Secondly, we need to be given GST input credit. No other sector is so badly affected by GST as the realty sector. We purchase cement at 28 per cent GST and that's akin to purchasing a luxurious product or liquor. This cost again is retrieved from the customers. Finally, the tax slab for home buyers must be more liberal. Even those paying rent should be exempted from tax.

KANTHI DUTT, founder of SustainKart, Hyderabad

Our Indian roots should be well-preserved, Make in India needs to have a valid budget to be rightly spent for uplifting local manufacturing units & MSMEs. The small businesses were badly hit because of the pandemic. Easy credit, raw material subsidies, fiscal stimulus, for private and small local business owners will provide some push for the industry. If export incentives can be reduced for Make in India products, we can establish our products in the global market. Ease in licensing policy, simpler legal procedures, and assistance for taxation can add value to small businesses.

PC MUSTHAFA, CEO and co-founder, iD Fresh Food, Bengaluru

The Budget should focus on generating demand and driving-increased consumption, particularly from tier-2 and 3 markets. While India has done well in terms of economic recovery, this is the best time to encourage local and home-grown innovations by easing compliance and regulatory-related issues. India's youth is its biggest strength. I would like to see more programmes and incentives related to skilling for the youth in rural India.

RAVINDER REDDY, founder of Janapriya, Hyderabad

Affordable housing is the need of the hour in the country. The government should make its policies more friendly so that builders are encouraged to venture into this sector. It needs to show mercy on them by raising the tax exemption and allowing partial occupancy certificates.

SATHYA SANKARAN, bicycle mayor of Bengaluru

When it comes to urban development, we need to rethink the way the cities have been structured. World over, including India, countries have been taking aggressive targets in terms of moving towards electric vehicles, active mobility and public transport. This is the perfect time to put a transformative budget in place. There should be greater allocations to build more tracks for cycles and footpaths.

MUKESH TOLANI, NRAI Bengaluru Chapter head

The biggest help for the hospitality industry would be the change in structure regarding the GST rates. Currently, we are on a 5 % GST without input credit and all our capital expenditure is high because of this. A reduction in taxes for LPG will also be a great move. This is one of the major components of our industry. And as we are an industry that's been hit due to the pandemic, perhaps some benefits for the employees to get Provident Funds, or something that can help their salaries would be good.

DR NAGESHWAR REDDY, chairman & founder of AIG Hospitals, Hyderabad

The kind of focus our government has given to the health sector has been exemplary. Our expectation from the Budget is to see policies that can further bridge the gap between private and public organisations, making access to health services more equitable. It is imperative that we understand the importance of home-grown research and therefore, a substantial budgetary allocation for health research will not only boost the sector but will further help our country showcase its might globally.

DR N PAUL SUNDER SINGH, founder/secretary, Karunalaya Social Service Society, Chennai

This Budget will prove whether the common people can have some hope for the near future. It should focus on allocating money for campaigns that safeguard children everywhere because more issues of abuse and exploitation occur without them. There is also a need for an increase of funds to the ongoing Child Protection Scheme. Despite inflation, the salary of staff in CCIs have remained the same for nearly 10 years and that needs to change. Other than that, family counselling centres are needed to deal with rampant domestic violence, and access to good playgrounds for poor children. The Metro rail has taken over grounds and parks, so there is no play area in most of the poor neighbourhoods. For better education, too, children in poor neighbourhoods need access to the Internet, laptops or tablets and free Wi-Fi.

ATUL GOYAL, CFO, Brigade Group, Bengaluru

The real estate sector will benefit if the entire sector is given infrastructure status. Special sector zones should be allowed to rent out to non-SEZ tenants. The government should consider an extension of two years for affordable housing projects approved on or before March 31, 2020, with a request of 5-10% commercial space. We urge the government, for the time being, to remove taxation on all deeming incomes of the real estate sector.

N VIJAYA SHANTI, homemaker, Hyderabad

The Budget has not been a pleasant one for a few years now. As a homemaker, I feel the pinch of the rising prices of all items, especially essentials, LPG and oil. This Budget, our leaders should think about cutting down the rates of all these basic necessities.

Compiled by Anila Kurian, Anushree Madhavan, Himabindu Reddy, Kannalmozhi Kabilan, Rachel Dammala, Sahana Iyer, Sanath Prasad, Shreya Veronica

PARTHASARATHY VM, Safe Food Alliance, Chennai

Tamil Nadu has its own agricultural budget, a first of its kind. There was a bunch of consultations the team did and presented asks that were specific to multiple schemes and how they can reroute the budget. Similar inclusive consultations should be done at the national level. Things have changed because of climate and we'll have to shift towards a climate-resilient form of agriculture. The central government is aggressively talking about natural farming but it's only been on paper. It is not backed by schemes or activities on the ground. The ask here is to focus on strengthening the current chemical-free farming movements; look into insurance for it, create awareness, hand-holding farmers shifting out of conventional farming. Then, land rights is still a genuine problem for certain sects of people in our country (women, SC community). We should set aside a budget to fix that. And, the Budget should set aside schemes to conserve, preserve and propagate biodiversity in the form of native seed, livestock, etc.

MEENA KOLLA, homemaker, Bengaluru

As a homemaker, we always look forward to giving a well-balanced life to our family and not on luxurious things. But, we are unable to do so with the hike in prices of all commodities. Vendors say that it's due to the transportation costs, petrol price and so on. The Budget shouldn't just favour the rich, it should be friendly to the common man as well.

PARUPALLI KASHYAP, badminton player, Hyderabad

There is a need to increase the budget for sports. I hope sports is given importance in the Union Budget this year and funding is increased. This would help upcoming and existing athletes across India. It would also help in organising more tournaments, improve the facilities and quality of training, which in turn would give athletes more exposure. There's also a need to develop sports science, for which a lot of funding is required.

FIT BIT

BANDHA HASTA UTTHANASANA

(LOCKED HAND RAISING POSE)

This one of the variations of Tadasana (Mountain Pose). As the practitioners have varying abilities, a given yoga pose may be easy for a particular practitioner but hard for another. In such a case, a yoga expert can introduce pose variations to further challenge the practitioner. Pose variations can help learners grow and build further confidence in their yoga practice no matter what their starting ability levels are. This pose helps boost energy. Hence it can be included in flow yoga sequences. It is considered a warm-up yoga pose to prepare the body for more intense poses/flows.

STEPS

- Stand erect with the feet together and arms by the sides. Relax the whole body and balance the body weight equally on your feet.
- Cross your wrists in front of the body. Inhale and slowly raise the arms above the head, keeping the wrists crossed, and at the same time bend the head slightly backward and look up at the hands.
- Exhale and spread the arms out to the sides so that they form a straight line at shoulder level.
- Hold the position. Then reverse the movement, inhale and re-cross the wrists above the head.
- Finally, exhale deeply and lower the arms straight down so that they are once again in the starting position.
- Repeat the process 10 times.

BENEFITS

- Regular practice of this asana rectifies round shoulders and removes stiffness from the shoulders and upper back.
- The deep, synchronised breaths help improve breathing capacity.
- This asana also influences the heart and is more useful to improve blood circulation.
- If you practise this asana regularly, the whole body, especially the brain, receives an extra supply of oxygen.

LIMITATIONS

- If you have vertigo, low blood pressure, headache or migraine, avoid this pose.
- If you are pregnant, you may want to keep your feet hip distance apart, or wider.
- If you easily hyperextend your knees, extra care should be taken to engage your hamstrings so that you can protect your knees.

RUBINATIONS
Rubi Chakravarti
Writer, actor and funny girl

I LIKE the idea of everyday monotony. There is a quaint sense of security one feels doing the same 'nothingness' day after day. The only excitement is double masking when one has no option but to step out (in a dire emergency, of course). One can barely contain one's excitement when 'they' step back in, because one paranoid person (every house has one) will start using the 'sanitising kit' in right earnest! Personally, I don't object. This is the only way I can ensure a thorough clean-up!

Broadly, we fall into three categories. One are the conspiracy theorists who are convinced a foreign/alien hand is at work intent on making us obedient zombies, two are the middle-pathfinders, the skeptical believers who will listen to the positive side of things but will also scan news-reports for Covid-19 statistics then blindly believe whatever 'the all-knowing' WhatsApp reports! The third are the people who tempt fate by roaming around mask-less, fearless and thoughtless. They will give you endless 'gyan' on how we cannot live in fear until. The virus bites them in the derriere and it affects them or one of their own. Only then, do they change their tune.

Cardi-V has and continues to change the diaspora, people's intentions and the very world both subtly and overtly. We are an entitled generation who took the world by its horns. We are a 'you are with me or against me' type of people and none of us is very gracious about listening to a 'no' or 'it's not possible'. If we perceive a threat we are arrogant enough to want to annihilate it completely without bothering about the repercussions. We have evolved into a vociferate, free thinking, entitled and self-centered super race that was brought to its knees by an insidious virus that has killed and sickened more people than both the world wars put together! We have valiantly tried quick-fix solutions and bypassed reliable testing methods in a race for a 'super-vaccine'... and after two years we are still trying, as the tricky virus mutates itself into becoming deadlier.

While most of the world complains and quibbles over the spoils, there are some people who transformed into better, brighter and more beautiful people. The hundreds of unsung heroes who transported dead bodies, tireless frontline workers and doctors, and the youth brigade who asked not what the country did for them but what they could do for their country by organising funds, oxygen, beds and whatever was needed by the sick and dying are a case in point.

DREAMERS AND WINNERS

Mrinalini, Hari and Yashodhara Marar

Two dynamic men I am proud to call my friends are, Hari Marar, CEO and MD BIAL, and Puneet Dhawan, senior VP Operations India & S.E. Asia. They emerged as high-powered and inspirational leaders who their staff looked up to for guidance and fortitude. The spirited and energetic Hari, worked tirelessly to keep the ₹1,400 crore expansion airport-project going, while triumphantly turning it into the first fully 'no-contact' airport. He is working on a sustainability project with the surrounding areas of the massive complex, so as to be a totally self-reliant entity both with power- generation and food. He has also used this time motivating his vastly underutilised men to come up with idea based projects in which they too would have a stake. A BIAL shark-tank!

Puneet took over The Accor Group when India was reeling during the second wave. He is a charismatic and humble leader who always believed in leading by example especially in the hospitality industry. Inspite of personal drawbacks where he hadn't set eyes on his children who studied in Australia for two years, he became virtually unstoppable! He opened four new hotels (including the prestigious Raffles in Udaipur) and travelled incessantly, always keeping in touch and showing his team the bigger brighter picture and how one could be both safe and productive. It's where we're going that counts!

Cafe Maverick and Farmer Coffee, a newly-opened joint in Ulsoor, is giving square burgers a try

A square meal

EXPRESS FEATURES

How do you like your burger? We are not asking about the patty in the burger but the shape of it. This new cafe in the city — Maverick and Farmer Coffee – prefers serving them in squares.

Owner of the cafe, Asish D'abreo, says the idea was to do something different from others and this way, even customers felt they get a larger quantity because the edges of the burgers are not cut off. "There is always a push to do something different to grab the attention of people. So we thought why not try square burgers. I, personally, haven't seen this in the city," says D'abreo.

The cafe, which is near Ulsoor, currently has five burgers on their menu. D'abreo says, "The burger 'I will have what she is having' is the best selling. The name surely is a play on the dialogue from a popular dinner scene in Hollywood movie When Harry met Sally. What makes it unique is that it has a double chicken patty, topped with egg and lots of cheese. The burger is loaded. So the moment you see it, you feel like you should also have it," says D'abreo with a laugh. The burgers are priced around ₹200 onwards.

Apart from the chicken burger, there are a variety of veggie options too. "We have something called 'Umami' which is a vegan burger, has lentils and mushrooms and is packed with Umami flavour," he says, adding that the classic veggie burger is filled with vegetables.

Not just burgers, the cafe — which is currently one month old —is also known for its coffee. Having sourced their coffee from Nellikad estate in Kodagu, their signature one is Ol' Smoky. "It is a cold-smoked coffee which is medium roasted with a smoky finish. It has the flavour of pineapple and toffee," says D'abreo.

TASTE OF THE SOUTH

Filter coffee

Quintessential Bengaluru joint MTR, which launched in London recently, has seen several flocking the place for some bisi bele bath, dosae and rava idli. Former British Dy High Commissioner for Karnataka, Jeremy Pilmore-Bedford too paid a visit

ANILA KURIAN

THE United Kingdom's decision to scrap Covid curbs has elicited mixed responses. But the F&B industry which has borne the brunt of the pandemic is heaving a sigh of relief. Incidentally, the launch of Bengaluru's own Mavalli Tiffin Rooms, popularly known as MTR, in London comes at a time when Covid norms have been done away with.

Though the restaurant is still in its soft launch stage, the interest in south Indian tiffin items has the owners excited. In fact, franchise head, Karthik Srinivasaiah, says it's been difficult to keep the footfall at bay.

While Indians living in London have been thronging the place for some filter kappi, bisi bisi rava idli (their signature dish) and some masala dosae, the restaurant also saw former British Deputy High Commissioner for Karnataka and Kerala Jeremy Pilmore-Bedford dining in. Taking to Twitter, he shared, "Great handover with Anna [Shotbolt, head of an environment and infrastructure department of the British Embassy in Beijing, London] including on how to eat Masala Dosa the proper way! Super taste of the real #Karnataka in #London at #MTRLondon."

"The right way to eat a dosae is to dig into it, get to the masala and eat around it," laughs Hemamalini Maiya, managing partner of MTR Restaurants, who is heading to the UK next week.

MTR has eight restaurants in Bengaluru, one in Mysuru and Udupi as well. Internationally, the Singapore and Dubai brand opened in 2015, two years later, Malaysia opened its branch, and now, London is the latest addition.

"Each franchise we have is run by good friends. Our first international one was in Singapore. The Malaysian one is run by our landlords in Bengaluru. London, too, is run by a friend's friend who has now become a close friend of ours," says Maiya, adding, "However, the problem with having restaurants abroad is that the internal team needs external feedback."

There are challenges in starting a franchise, especially in ensuring that the chefs are trained the right way.

"Two chefs, Sivakumar and Dhanapal, trained with us in Bengaluru for four months before we launched in London. They had to do a lot of unlearning but they were also very quick in picking up and eventually learnt why our dosae is different from others," she says.

Hemamalini Maiya

While a majority of the ingredients are sourced from the respective countries, the main masala is always sent from Bengaluru.

"We have to ensure that our signature taste remains," she says, pointing out that getting the right kind of ghee in these countries is hard.

"But knowing our brand name, many have been stopping. It's always wonderful to see an amalgamation of a crowd," she says.

So are there more branches in the offing? "You never know! There are some talks going on about opening in the US but we're taking it slow. We need the right kind of chefs and they have to be trained. In India, we aren't too keen on expanding, yet we don't really want to completely sideline the idea either," says Maiya.

WHISK IT IN

MIXOLOGY
Krishnamurthy AR
(The writer is senior beverage manager - Otto's Restobar)

WANT to "graduate" to whisky but are not sure where and how to start? Or you are a whisky aficionado and want to stray from the straight and narrow? Then you can experiment with whisky cocktails.

One the one hand, they can be a great way for newcomers to find their way into the whisky world, on the other, the wide variety of whiskies from a wide variety of origins, lends itself to making flavourful and robust cocktails. A well-balanced drink can showcase the spirit's versatility and complexity, especially for those who may find the flavour of straight whisky too powerful.

One can find good whisky in many parts of the world, and even Indian whiskies are really coming into their own.

From the classic Scotch and Bourbon, to Irish and peated whiskies, you can concoct exquisite cocktails depending on your preference.

Here are some of my favourite whisky recipes which are also very popular. You can easily try these at home.

Whiskey Cocktail (Old Fashioned)

As early as 1806, there are references to the "Bittered Sling", a morning tippler comprising spirit, sugar, bitters, and water, a combination that would span centuries and be among the first to bear the name "cocktail".

Invented in the 1830s by New Orleans resident Antoine Amédée Peychaud (of Peychaud's Bitters fame), it was initially named for its use of Sazerac French brandy, but this ingredient was often replaced by whiskey in the 1870s, eventually becoming one of the world's most popular cocktails.

Alia Bhatt-starrer Gangubai Kathiawadi to be out on Feb 25

CE FEATURES

SANJAY Leela Bhansali's Gangubai Kathiawadi will release on February 25. Before that, the film starring Alia Bhatt will have its world premiere at the 72nd Berlin International Film Festival.

Gangubai Kathiawadi's release has been pushed several times over the last one year. It was earlier set to be released on February 18, but is now arriving a week later.

Portrayed by Alia on screen, Gangubai was a real-life mafia queen and brothel owner from the 60s. She rose as a prominent figure in the Mumbai underworld. The film is based on a chapter from the book Mafia Queens of Mumbai by Hussain Zaidi.

Speaking about the Berlin premiere, Sanjay Leela Bhansali had earlier said, "The story of Gangubai Kathiawadi has been very close to my heart and me and my team have given it all to make this dream possible. We take pride and honour in showcasing our film at the prestigious Berlin International Film Festival."

A crime thriller that also depicts relatable middle-class lives, love, and friendships

OMBATTANEDIKKU

Cast: Yogi, Aditi Prabhudeva, Ashok, Saikumar, Ramesh Bhat, and SampathKumar

Director: Dayal Padmanabhan

A SHARADHAA

RATING 3/5

FIVE men and one abandoned black bag with compass markings printed on it, Ombattane Dikku, a crime thriller, revolves around. With non-linear storytelling, the film gives an experience of a page-turner novel teeming with twists and turns that keep the audience guessing. An official remake of Tamil flick Kurangu Bommai, Ombattane Dikku begins with an animation sequence, with a voice-over by Darshan. He tells two brief stories - one of a hunter and another of a bird. This prologue becomes the essence of Ombattane Dikku.

The actual story of the film revolves around Channakeshava (Yogi), a cab driver in Bengaluru. In an attempt to help a man named Murthy (Ramesh Bhat), who loses his black bag, he ends up in a fix. The mess Channa goes through and other sub-plots lead to a climax that was middling.

The film also becomes a revenge drama in some instances and a romantic drama of Channa and Saroja Devi (Aditi Prabhudeva) in another. Briefly, it also touches on the friendship in the episode between Yogi's father, Vasu (Ashok), and his gangster friend, Varadappa (Sai Kumar).

Dayal had brought the film to Kannada only for its content. So he does not take any risk. He faithfully reproduces the script and film of Nithilan Swaminathan. However, he does not make an effort to correct the flaws that did not work in the original. Nevertheless, Perfect cast overcomes the shortcomings. Yogi, Ashok, Aditi Prabhudeva, and Saikumar play their part well. Sampath Kumar's performance is one of the highlights of the film. With an untiring run-time, Ombattane Dikku, despite being a thriller, also depicts relatable middle-class lives, love, and friendships.

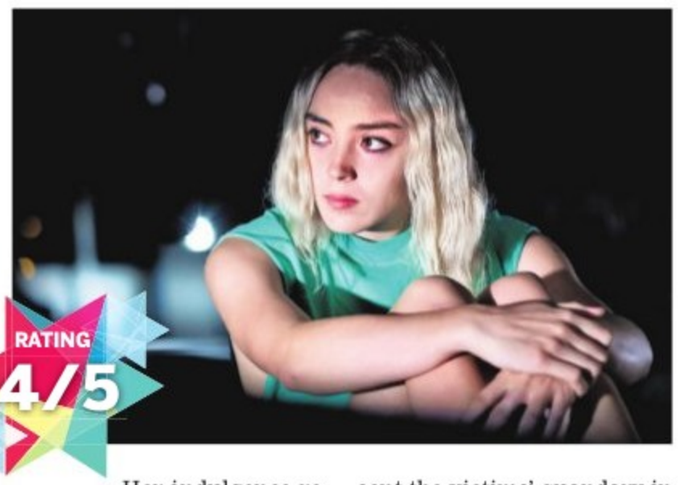
THIS BODY-HORROR MASTERPIECE IS HEARTFELT

TITANE

Cast: Vincent Lindon, Agathe Rousselle, Garance Marillier, Laïs Salameh

Director: Julia Ducournau

RAM VENKAT SRIKAR



RATING 4/5

JULIA Duccounau is a provocative filmmaker. Each frame and each character is designed to evoke strong responses—disgust, sympathy, pain, sadness... Take, for instance, an ambiguous sequence in Raw, in which the protagonist Justine gets thrown into panic when an unknown force seems to strike her when she is in bed. The attack could well be within her head, but Duccounau makes it hard for us to differentiate between the real and surreal. This is an idiosyncrasy she carries forward in her second feature, Titane

The characters in Titane are real and so are their conflicts. The filmmaker treats this film as an antithesis to a fairytale; we follow Alexia (Agathe Rousselle) from her childhood's definitive incident to the closure it leads to years later as an adult. This coming-of-age journey is riddled with grotesque events, with each bringing us a step closer to her.

Titane—if you have managed to dodge plot points on social media to date—does have an unusual story, one rooted in the psyche of Alexia, literally. An injury due to a car accident necessitates that a titanium plate be fitted in young Alexia's head. When she exits the hospital, she ignores her parents and embraces the car, physically. This act of love sees a rather more physical iteration when an adult Alexia has intercourse with a Cadillac (you read it right). Alexia learns she is pregnant (Again, you read it right).

The first hour of Titane is an eccentric, intense watch. Alexia gratuitously murders people—which could be an impulse or a morbid fascination. Her indulgence results in the film's only darkly comic moment, when she learns there are more people in a house where she is on a murder spree, meaning she has more bodies to count. It's fascinating how Duccounau chooses to stage this brutal homicide: the first kill is framed in a static wide, illustrating the indifference of Alexia; she then employs two single shots for other kills, the cameras only shaking to represent the victims' quandary in their last moments. When the focus gets back to Alexia, the rapid movement eases.

The film's heart lies in something twisted and unusual. It's heartening to see Alexia (following a complete make-over) pretend to be Andrie, a young man reuniting with his father Vincent (a marvelous Vincent Lindon) after going missing as a child. This father-son/daughter dynamic sweeps you with its meditative tone and like Alexia, Titane evolves into a different film post the halfway mark.

The focus is no longer on pain and emotional void—although we continue to sporadically see intense 'body horror' scenes—but on uncanny bondage and acceptance. Alexia also gets a tiny redemption arc, which is also perhaps the most profound scene in the film. Vincent, the fireman, has his son Adrien accompany him on one of his emergency rescue calls, and the latter aids in saving the life of an old woman. They both bond over performing CPR on the woman. Perhaps the only happy moment in the film comes in a party that follows, shot in neon-lighting and played to 'Light House', when Vincent embraces his son wholeheartedly. This is when we see Titane metamorphose into a compassionate tale of love.

Titane discomforts you with violence, but it also takes the remaining time to calm you. By the end, which sees the confluence of both these facets, you are left breathless—in a good way.
